Tragic Collision Takes Five Boaters' Lives

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Five people dead and one injured. That is the awful toll of a terrible boating accident that occurred in the early morning hours of Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.

Dead are Lisa Messenger, 23, of Arlington Heights and her sister, Susan, 25. Also James Brankin, 27, of Rolling Meadows; Wayne Anderson, 28, of Lake Villa; and Chet Francke, 27, of Fox Lake.

Patrick Flohr, 26, of Round Lake is the only survivor. At press time he was in fair condition at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry.

Lt. Tom Gardner of the Lake County Sheriff's Police, in charge of the Sheriff's Water Patrol, said that a witness who had been watching boats on the water had provided police with a description of what happened.

According to the witness, Brankin and the two Messenger sisters were cruising slowly in a 19-foot Master Craft boat about 300 yards south of Indian Point. A 21-foot Four Winds power boat, driven by Anderson with Francke and Flohr as passengers, came roaring through the foggy darkness at an estimated 60 miles per hour and, colliding with the Master Craft boat, ripped its front end off upon impact.

Gardner said that Brankin and the Messenger sisters were apparently killed by the impact, though their bodies were thrown into the water by the force of the collision.

Police believe that Anderson's boat flew into the air and then hit the water with such awesome force that the upper and lower sections of the hull briefly separated. Anderson's head was pinned, killing him, when the two sections came back together.

Flohr was knocked unconscious but was not thrown from the boat. When he came to, he heard Francke splashing about in the water pleading for help. Before Flohr could throw him a line, though, Francke went under for the last time.

Police divers recovered all four bodies that were in the water by dawn of Labor Day.

Gardner said that Flohr had told police that Anderson did not see the Master Craft boat until the last moments before impact. Though he tried to swerve to avoid the collision, it was too late.

Gardner said that Anderson, Francke, and Flohr had left Jukebox Saturday Night, a lakeside cocktail lounge, shortly before the accident. Flohr admitted that the three had beer on board their boat.

Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson is conducting toxicology tests to determine if alcohol was a contributing factor in the tragic accident. She expects to have some results by the end of the week.

Redevelopment Work To Go Into High Gear

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

"Ten days from now, it's going to look like the Marines have landed on the east side of Main St.," said Antioch Redevelopment Commission Chairman Michael Warren. That was on Thursday, Aug. 28.

The redevelopment commission has been at work for several years now. Warren said that the commission has wanted to move slowly in order to carefully plan and evaluate each phase of their work. Work which has crept along at a snail's pace will suddenly go into hyperdrive. Consider:

-Brans Nuts, which will occupy the old EJ's Camera building is finishing up the interior work. The exterior work will soon be complete. Officials expect that the store will be open and ready for business by mid-September, only two weeks away.

-The commission has gotten a final commitment from the Antioch Rotary Club to underwrite the cost of "Antioch Rotary Park" in the mall area. It will include a pavilion-gazebo type structure, a permanent community directory donated by Stahl Signs, and a community calendar. Thelen Sand & Gravel will pour a cement walk and the Chamber of Commerce is interested in putting the Santa Claus house in the park. It is expected to be completed within 30 days.

-The parking area for the mall project is all but complete. Because it lies behind most of the buildings on east Main St., citizens have not yet seen how it will look. That will change as the park opens up.

Paintings That Aren't

Look again. These artistic works, which have been on display at the First National Bank of Antioch for two weeks, are made entirely of different sorts of wood. Janet Stein, public relations administrator for the bank, stands with the display. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Faussner, who have been customers at the First National Bank for over ten years, lent the collection for display. Matt is the artist. Any one who is interested in owning one of the pieces may call Janet Stein at (312) 395-3111.—Photo by Charles Johnston

Proposed Budget Available For Public Inspection

The tentative budget for Antioch High School Dist. 117 will be on file at the Antioch High School business office until Sept. 18. It will be available for public inspection between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. during regular business days.

A public hearing will be held on the proposed budget before the regular meeting scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 18.

Grade School Reschedules Board Meeting

The board of education for Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 has postponed its regular meeting which was scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 16. The meeting will be held instead on Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. in the library of the W.C. Petty Elementary School, 850 Highview Dr., Antioch.

Old Wound Gives Man A Mission

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

On July 4, 1976, North Chicago Police Officer Charles Watkins had just dropped a fellow officer, Tom Fisher, off when a call came in that there was a robbery in progress at McDonald's. Watkins sped immediately to the scene and, with the aid of a fellow officer, subdued a suspect in the restaurant.

Thinking that everything was under control, he went to the basement, where he saw five people on the floor, bound and gagged. Rushing right in, he was shot. The bullet entered his right forearm, traveled up the arm and broke a rib, finally exiting from the upper left side of his chest.

Watkins recovered and is now a sergeant with the Antioch Police Dept. The fellow officer he dropped off that day, Tom Fisher, is a lieutenant with the Antioch Police Dept.

"If I had had training, I would not have been shot," Watkins said. "Because of the lack of training, I endangered myself and everybody in the basement by rushing right in. The way to handle that situation would have been to question the first suspect fully. Then, when I saw five people tied in the basement, I should have stayed behind cover. I should have immediately gone back upstairs and got some artillery and negotiators in."

Though he doesn't dwell on the incident, it has led him to take a keen interest in firearms training. So much so that he and a fellow officer on the Antioch force, George Broecker, took a 44-hour course at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana to become Certified Police Firearms Instructors.

They came back and set up a program in Antioch to teach officers how to properly use firearms and how to protect themselves if a situation involving deadly force (the use of firearms) should arise in the course of duty.

"Seventy percent of all police who died in shootings did not have sufficient cover," Watkins said. "Just because a guy is a policeman doesn't mean that he knows how to shoot. Just like anyone else, he has to be taught how to use his tools."

Watkins emphasized that there is a lot more to using a firearm than aiming and shooting. To demonstrate this to the people on the Antioch Police Force, he and Broecker set up a tactical course and range. Using steel plates mounted on poles as targets, the two officers designed props of common street objects to serve as cover. Officers on the course were evaluated on accuracy and on how well they used the cover available to them.

Both safety and protection from liability are key elements of a good firearms training program, according to Watkins. He points out that an officer, a police department, and a village can be sued for any shooting incident if they have not provided training on each type of gun used. All training must be carefully documented as well. As Certified Police Firearms Instructors, Watkins and

Millburn Welcomes New Teachers

Millburn Grade School welcomes new teachers for the 1986-87 school year. The new faces in the Millburn classrooms will be: Janet Schwartz, fifth grade; John Pauli, junior high social studies; Janice Metzger, junior high art; Catherine Brookhart, second grade; Douglas Dunbar, language arts and history; Judith Teubner, junior high physical education and Patrice Dean-Lawson, vocal music. Joining the teachers are Gary Cybul, principal and Lee Smithey, Millburn's new superintendent.

Historical Society Plans Commemorative Posters

The Lakes Region Historical Society is sponsoring an exciting project headed by the Four Coins Company of Crystal Lake-Cary. Area businessmen are being asked to include their businesses on a full color, 24 x 36 inch poster of Antioch.

The poster will attempt to capture the beauty and uniqueness of the town through poster art. The poster, a full four-color poster-map with cartoon-like drawings of area establishments, will use an aerial perspective to show the participating businesses and local landmarks and institutions. Completed, the poster will become an attractive piece of art.

Businesses included on the poster will be depicted by their corporate logo or business card along with a drawing of their building. Also included on the poster will be a history of Antioch along with several municipal buildings such as the city hall, police and fire stations, the Chamber of Commerce building, etc.

All participating businesses will receive 45 copies to be sold or used for promotions, give-aways, or gifts. Four Coins has also donated 1,000 copies to the Historical Society to use for a fund raiser. Printed only once, the poster has a guaranteed publication of at least 5,000 copies.

This project will give Antioch residents something to look at and share with friends and relatives that is really their "Home Town". Being produced only once, these posters are sure to become treasured collectors items.

The account executives of Four Coins visit area businesses on a referral basis which will insure that all of the leading businesses in town are included, since there are only 80-85 available spaces. The response in Antioch has been tremendous. Four Coins expects to have all of the businesses signed up by Sept. 5.

It is important for businessmen to realize that they may not be contacted unless another business has referred Four Coins to them. Anyone interested should contact Four Coins at (312) 639-8855.

Church To Offer Film Series

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church of Antioch will present Dr. James Dobson's film series, "Turn Your Heart Toward Home."

The first film of the six-part series, "A Father Looks Back," will be shown at the church at 1275 S. Main St. on Sunday, Sept. 7 at 6:30 p.m. The other five films will be shown Sept. 14 through Oct. 12.

Citing examples, Dobson portrays the pressures parents are susceptible to. He says that society's slide toward humanism and what he calls the undermining influences of radio, television, films, and the press can only be counterbalanced by a loving home where Christian values are instilled from an early age.

The film series was released by Word Publishing and Focus on the Family, Inc.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church will provide babysitters. For further information, call (312) 395-1660.

Lake Geneva Car Rally Set For Sept. 27, 28

Local businesses and individuals are donating many prizes to welcome participants to the 9th Annual Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally to be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 27 and 28 at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort.

Over $4,000 worth of prizes have already been donated and many more are coming in, according to the prize committee, co-chaired by Judy Stroks and Diane Muzzy of Lake Geneva.

The American Cancer Society benefit is sponsored by the Corinne Kreissl Memorial Foundation, Inc., with the cooperation of the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, Geneva Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, Lake Geneva Rotary Club, American Cancer Society and Walworth County CB Radio Club.

The grand prize for the antique and classic car event is a full all expense weekend for two at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort. Well known artist, Paul Brisko of Racine, is again donating a large oil painting of the winner's car for second prize.

Adelines To Meet

The Riverport Chorus, Sweet Adelines, meet at 7 p.m., Mondays, at Salem School. All area ladies interested in singing four-part harmony barbershop style, are invited. Call (414) 862-6020 for more information.

The first five winners will again receive trophies from 1st Bank Southwest of Lake Geneva and the first 10 winners will receive valuable prizes ranging from jewelry to t.v. sets.

Prizes are awarded at 2 p.m. on Sunday at the Americana Ski Chalet following the Grand Car Show Finale at noon. The beautiful general merchandise prizes donated by local merchants and participating shops will go to winners, car clubs, special interest, consolation, and door prize recipients.

"Two years ago was our best year for attendance when we had 520 cars," according to Betty Bartelson of Lake Geneva, general administrative chairwoman of the annual event. "Last year we had over 400 cars and it rained most of the day, so with decent weather we expect a new record," stated Bartelson.

This year again, a two day event is planned, instead of the previous Sunday only format. Participants can tour around Geneva Lake on Saturday or Sunday stopping in five zones around the lake at participating stops. Saturday participants need not attend Sunday's event, to be eligible for rally participation prizes.

Proceeds of the Classic Car Rally are for Childhood Cancer Research. Almost $60,000 has been raised since 1978 when the Rally tour was originated.

For further information contact: Betty Bartelson, P.O. box 732, Lake Geneva, WI 53147 (414)248-3536

Roxanne Shante, new York, recording artist with Pop Art Records, will be appearing, Saturday, Sept. 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the Genesee Theater, Waukegan, as a guest artist in Variety Show III, a $1,000 talent contest.

Largest Edible Tomato Wins

The 42nd Annual Fall Flower and Vegetable Show held at the Belvidere Mall center court on Aug. 23 and 24, sponsored by the Men's Garden Club of Waukegan, is now history.

Although not as elaborate as previous events, the nearly 500 entries were of excellent quality and gave the judges a workout in selecting ribbon winning entries.

Arch Darrow of Gurnee, for the 11th consecutive year, won show championship with his numerous entries, totaling 200 points. His marigold trio, purple plums, and African violet entries rated four trophies.

Gust Drake's "Poetic" and "Miss Christie" carried dahlia honors, including best of show. Al Marro's gladiola "Pink Magic"; Dave Morris' red roses; Ernest Booth's, lycoris; Don Potter's huge Caladium; And Sixto Rida's bell peppers and hanging baskets all rated traveling club member trophies, as did Dr. John Jackson's largest edible tomato.

The Belvidere Mall Merchant's Assn. Award for non-member show champion went to Bob Fink with 120 points. His acorn squash made the champ table as did Tom Hauseman's miniature rose "Snow Bride"; pink petunia, and hibiscus. Roger Flood's arrangement of blue and ageratum rated a prize award.

Melissa Potter's "Poetic Arrangement" won junior exhibit honors. A special rosette went to Al Marro for his club exhibit around the hospitality booth.

Thirty-five exhibitors entered nearly 500 exhibits to win 140 first, 117 second and 140 third awards.

Due to the Labor Day holiday the club's next meeting night will be Tuesday, Sept. 2 at the Waukegan Public Library Auditorium, at 7:30 p.m. Show committee reports and suggestions for next year's event will be part of the program.

Woodstock Opera House Rehearses "Little Me"

Members for the cast for the October presentation of the comic musical, "Little Me," were announced today by Roger Sawacki, director of the Woodstock Musical Theatre Co. production.

"Little Me" combines the comic writing of Neil Simon with the lyrics and music of Carolyn Leigh and Cy Coleman to provide a delightful opportunity for zany comedy by a talented cast. In a role written especially for Sid Caesar, Caesar played the role of seven men in the life of actress Belle Poitrine.

Gary Koon, Huntley, will play the Sid Caesar role. He's familiar to Woodstock Opera House fans, performing in stellar fashion in "The Sound of Music" and "Say Goodnight, Gracie".

The older Belle, who tells the story in a series of flashbacks, will be played by Charlaine Tiffany, McHenry. A younger Belle, revealed through the flashbacks, will be brought to life by Sharon Harrison. Tiffany appeared at the Opera House in such hits as "Applause" and "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." Harrison is a veteran performer, producer and director at the Opera House. She directed last fall's hit, "Sound of Music."

Don Crop, a regular at the Opera House from Mundelein, will fill several roles. Two of the stars from "Mame" return—Jim Meisel and Lou Czarny, Woodstock.

David Lindquist, Crystal Lake, will play the role of a would-be lover of Belle. Steve Gilfertner, Cary, returns to the Opera House to fill several roles. Tammie Wetzel, Elgin, plays Ramona, the women Noble Eggleston (Koon's main role) marries when Belle is unavailable. Pat Crop, Mundelein, appears as the boisterous Momma, then as a demure Hollywood-type secretary.

Among those rounding out the cast of 15 are Charlene Ulanowski and Lee Ann Seltrecht, Woodstock; and Kim Kaufmann and Rebecca Strong, Crystal Lake, singers and dancers.

"Little Me" is a comic musical, Zawacki explained. "A musical comedy's story is based on a conventional stage comedy and then adopted by inserting cues for songs and dances. It remains dramatic rather than musical and the dramatic style is farce."

"A comic musical creates its own style or vision. This style sets the tone for the production, including the songs and dances. Sometimes it dictates the show's form."

He said the elements are integrated by the sense of humor. "Little Me" is zany and surreal, concluded Zawacki. "The theme is comedy."

"Little Me" opens Oct. 3 and continues for 10 performances through Oct. 18. Tickets are $7 and $10 and may be obtained by calling the Woodstock Opera House at (815) 338-5300.

Lake Zurich To Host Boat Race

The American Powerboat Assn. (APBA) announced that the Illinois State Outboard Championship race will once again be held at Lake Zurich.

This year's race, the 11th annual, is expected to draw more drivers than ever as it is also the last stop on the six-race Coors Light Powerboat Challenge series. Sponsored by the Lake Zurich Lions Club, the race will be held Sept. 6 and 7 at Pleasant Acres Park on Lake Zurich.

In addition to several American national champions expected to come, this year's race will boast at least one world class driver, 1986 world champion 25 super-stock hydroplane racer, Steve Warnock of Pewaukee, Wis.

Not only Coors Light Challenge points and prizes are being contested here," said race director Dennis Sheehan. "The drivers are competing for the Illinois Championships, prizes and trophies.

They can also add some late season racing points to their totals," Sheehan explained that these racing points are compiled by the APBA and used to calculate national championships.

The APBA sanctions all powerboat races in the U.S., from the mighty unlimited hydroplanes, like Miss Budweiser, down to entry level classes.

Choir Needs Singers

The Choir of Lake County, a community choir sponsored by the College of Lake County, has several openings for the coming year.

The choir sings selections ranging from popular tunes to works by major composers that require the talents of professional soloists. Rehearsals are held Tuesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. in the Music and Theater Building (Building 5) on the Grayslake campus.

The public is invited to register at the first rehearsal attended. The choir is offered as a non-credit class with a fee of $10. The choir director is Allen Myren; the accompanist is Kathleen Cizewski.

For more information call Tom Hoekstra, music instructor, at (312) 223-6601, Ext. 569.

Craft Show Needs More Exhibitors

Nov. 28, 29 and 30, the Holiday Craft and Gift Show, representing the world's largest under-one-roof show of its kind in the country will have its ninth successful year at Wisconsin State Fair Park, Milwaukee.

The show is exactly what its name suggests—an opportunity for commercial business and craftsmen to reach the public's eye. A combination gift show with the largest selection of 200 commercial companies with gifts and products, and the craft show with over 400 craftsmen, exhibiting a wide variety of original hand-crafted work. Attendance last year totaled 46,076.

Commercial business will have a great opportunity to sell and present new products and services. Commercial enterprises are being sought for the gift show at this time. Exhibitors interested in space should contact Dennis R. Hill, director, 3233 South Villa Circle, West Allis, WI 53227; or call (414) 321-4566.

The types of commercial services and product displays are tableware, cutlery, designer clothing, exercise equipment, home decorations, pre-packaged foods, cheese and sausage, sewing machines and appliances, ornamental imports, cleaners, Christmas gifts, cosmetics, computers, radios and tvs, furniture, toys and video games, tools, plus other commercial products appropriate for the gift giving season.

The Holiday Craft and Gift Show not only offers a pre-holiday shopping spree, but also professional entertainment, demonstrations, and musical groups.

Players Celebrate 20 Theatrical Years

The Kirk Players' Annual Awards Banquet took on added significance this year. It was combined into a player reunion in celebration of 20 years of community service.

Held on Aug. 23, at the Northern Chalet in Libertyville, the festive evening included dinner, a short reunion program, a summer workshop scene, the presentation of summer workshop, subscription series and player service awards, and dancing.

The evening's climax came with the presentation of the Kirk Players' highest honor, their "Hazen" Award as Most Valuable Player, to Phyllis Carter of Mundelein. "Hazen" Award winners are selected by the players themselves and recognizes backstage and administrative contributions and an enthusiastic supportive attitude as well as on-stage excellence. Carter had previously won both Best Actress and Best Supporting Actress awards.

Paula Williams of Wildwood became the group's top award winner of all time when she was awarded the Best Actress "Leslie" for her delightful portrayal of the young wife in "Barefoot in the Park".

Williams has been an active Player for nine years. She won her first Kirk award as a Guest Performer in "Playroom" when only 11 years old. Since then she has added two Best Actress "Leslies" (including this one), A Most Valuable Player "Hazen" Award, another Best Supporting Actress "Leslie", a "Mary Pearson" award and four "O'D" Awards as Best Actress in a workshop scene.

Other "Leslie" Awards selected by the Players and their season ticket holders included Russ Slade of Libertyville as Best Actor. His comic performance as the government agent in "Don't Tell Mother" earned him his second award in as many years. He was last years Best Supporting Actor. Best Supporting Awards went to veterans Tom Schrimpf and Wendi Lynn of Mundelein. Schrimpf is in his ninth year as a Player and has previously won two Best Supporting Actor "Leslies", a "Mary Pearson" Award and a Best Actor "O'D" Award.

Lynn is a member of the Kirk Board of Directors and as their hospitality director chaired the evenings events. Although in her ninth year as a player, this was her first "Leslie" Award. She had previously won a "Mary Pearson" Award for her workshop work.

Kirk newcomer, Jerilyn Kjellberg of Vernon Hills, won the "O'D" Award for Best Actress in a summer workshop scene. Non-player Tom Blake of Long Grove was the Best Actor, Kirk veteran, Thom Koch, Jr. was Best Director and a scene from "Elizabeth The Queen" with non-players Ron Galvin of Palatine and Carol Marie Feschesser of Mundelein and directed by Fred O'Donnell of Gurnee was voted the Best Scene. These awards are selected by the workshop participants themselves.

The "Mary Pearson" Award for "consistency of excellence and enthusiastic attitude" throughout the entire workshop went to Blake. His best actor winning performance in "The Lark", another outstanding performance in "The Sunshine Boys" which he also helped direct, and his enthusiastic participation in the improvisation workshop earned him the award.

The Players also bestowed Master Player status on six veteran Players. Carl Johnson of Libertyville, Donna Lynn of Schaumburg, Terry Sapp of Barrington, Kathy Russ and Jamie Ann Slade of Mundelein and Bill Phillips of Buffalo Grove were presented with walnut plaques proclaiming them Master Players, in grateful recognition of five years of active service, dedication and fellowship.

Jon Leslie Lynn, Mundelein High School theatre teacher, received recognition as an A.C.T.-Artist in Community Theatre. This unique Kirk Player program recognizes those Players who have devoted 10 years of active service and have appeared in or served as head of a major production crew on at least 20 productions. Although a Player since 1968, Lynn (for whom the Subscription Series Awards are named) was inactive for many years while away at school.

Hawthorn Hosts Teen Classes

Students of preteen and teen discovery classes at Sears in Hawthorn Center graduated following a fashion show Aug. 16 in the store.

Barrington resident graduating from the teen class was Megan O'Malley. Also graduating were Debra Lyn Marubio of Hawthorn Woods; Sacha Nanay of Ingleside; Jenny Bermea of Antioch; Tammy Brennan of Waukegan; Kristen Bacsa and Michelle Elliott of Grayslake; Francine Clark and Desiree Jesmok of Mundelein; Katie Hommer, Cathy Milliken and Amy Vining of Vernon Hills; April Lombardo of Buffalo Grove; Vicki Masilionis of Deerfield; Patricia Toal of Northbrook; and Kristina Pekarek and Dana Reiss of Lake Forest.

Registration for next session is Saturday, Sept. 20, from 10 a.m. to noon in the training room, second floor.

On Street Parking Can Draw Towing, Fine

by GLORIA DAVIS

A county parking ordinance passed by the Lake County Board last November forbids the parking of any type of motor vehicle on county, state or township highways at anytime if deemed hazardous to the flow of traffic.

Many of the highway departments of the unincorporated areas did not erect No Parking signs at the time that the ordinance was passed because of the frozen ground, but reports have the No Parking signs popping up all over the unincorporated parts of the county.

The main intent of the board was to rid the county of abandoned vehicles, junk vehicles and large truck, etc., that were being parked all over the county.

But the reading of the ordinance allows Lake County Sheriff's deputies to write parking tickets at their discretion for vehicles parked on any street in the county if posted.

Lakeland Newspapers was unable to get a definite answer from the sheriff's department as to how strictly that department has been enforcing the ordinance, but a representative did say that the sheriff's deputies have been writing tickets for vehicles parked in posted No Parking areas.

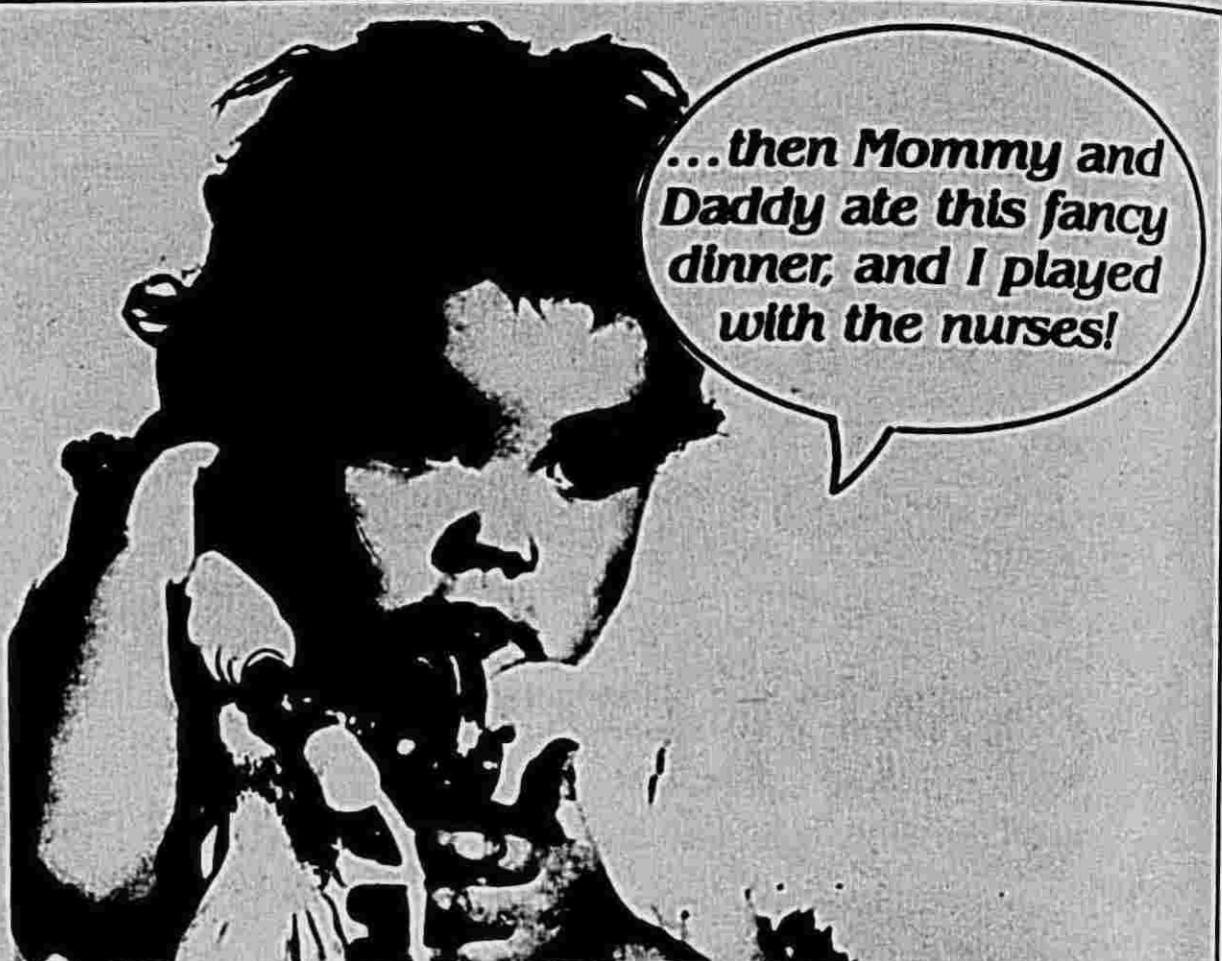

Theoretically, a deputy could write tickets for cars parked in front of a private residence (when a resident has guests and the number of cars overflows the private driveway) even in a subdivision if the entrance to the subdivision is so posted.

The ordinance leaves the decision of whether such parking is a hazard up to township highway departments, but does say on "any state, county or township highway."

Lake Villa Twp. Hwy. Commissioner Jim Semmerling is one township road commissioner that has his department posting No Parking signs at the entrances of all Lake Villa Twp. subdivisions, thus restricting parking on the streets in those subdivisions at anytime.

Vehicles so ticketed can be towed at a $50 to $70 cost to the vehicle's owner plus a $5 to $7 per day storage charge. A fine of $35 can also be imposed, but if paid within seven days the fine will be $15.

Stab Victim Says He Can't Remember What Happened

Jerry W. Price, 26, of Ingleside, has been released from St. Therese Hospital. Price had been admitted last week following a bizarre incident in Antioch.

He had gone to the Vault Restaurant at about 1 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 25, and ordered a meal. After he was served, he ate some of the meal, and then got up to go to the washroom. When witnesses heard a loud noise in the washroom and Price did not come out, the Antioch Police were called.

When the responding officers arrived, they discovered Price had a minor stab wound. There was no evidence that he had gotten it at the restaurant, so officers believed that he must have had the wound before entering the restaurant.

After he was well enough to be questioned, he said that he had been with some friends at the Illinois Beach Lodge. He claimed not to remember how he got to Antioch or even being at the Vault. Price said he did not even know he had been stabbed until he woke up in the hospital and asked why he was there.

Saying that he had only been drinking moderately, Price told police that he could not give the full names of his companions earlier in the evening because he did not know their last names. Police do not expect to solve the case of the man who had dinner before collapsing from a stab wound.

Redevelopment

Art Neckerman, project manager for the redevelopment commission, said that this project will be a model for the balance of the businesses on the east side.

Funded by a Tax Incremental Funding Dist. (TIF) the commission is already considering the next phase of its work. The way TIFs work is that a base year amount is set on real estate and sales taxes in the affected area. For the next 23 years, any tax amount above that base goes to the TIF.

According to Warren, there is some interest in involving the west side of Main St. in the same type of renovation. The commission is considering some legal matters right now in relation to the proposed widening of Park Ave., though.

Both men are committed to the future of Antioch. Neckerman is a ten-year resident of Antioch. He owns a design shop that designs specialty items for collectors and gift shops.

Warren moved to Antioch in 1966 and opened his Century 21 Real Estate office in 1972. Professing amazement at the community spirit that exists in Antioch, Warren noted that during Century 21's nationwide Easter Seal drive, his little office came in ninth nationwide for the largest amount turned in.

"Antioch is a special town," Warren said, "people are willing to give in order to make it a better place."

Both are anxious to see the long-awaited first project reach completion. Both believe that quality in the project is what will make the big difference to the village.

Everyone else will be able to see the fruits of the commission's labors within a few days.

The Pantry Isn't Bare

Ed C. Axton, Rotarian and president of the First National Bank of Antioch, donates checks from Antioch area financial institutions totaling $250 to Evelyn Kidmore for the Antioch Food Pantry. As winner of the Financial Institutions Challenge Cup at the Antioch Rotary Scholarship Stock Car Race, Axton elected to donate the participants' contributions to the food pantry.

Broecker provide the training and the documentation for the village.

In order to tighten procedures further, the two officers developed the comprehensive firearms manual that is now being used by all Antioch Policemen.

"Our police secretary, Jane Palmer, put three weeks worth of hard, extra work into developing that manual with us," Watkins said.

Although protecting themselves and the village from liability is important, the key factor in the program is teaching officers how to protect themselves. Watkins is a glutton for statistics that prove his point; namely that most shootings of a police officer could have been avoided with proper training.

"According to a survey done by the FBI," he said, "52 percent of all officer shootings occurred from zero to five feet away, 19 percent from six to ten feet, and 16 percent from 11 to 20 feet. Of every six rounds an officer fired, only 1.5 were hits. In 70 percent of all the shootings, the officer suspected danger. Shootings occurred in dim light or darkness and the elapsed time from start to finish was about three seconds."

Lt. Tom Fisher praised the work of his junior officer in developing the program.

"Watkins has done one heck of a job," he said. "This program could save some lives."

Watkins concluded, "All shooting incidents are different, but a good training program will give each officer the tools he needs to effectively deal with almost any situation in which the use of deadly force is a possibility."

Keep Those Oldest Paper Entries Coming

An entry offered by Mrs. Robert Lemke of Antioch brings the total number of entries in the Antioch News-Reporter's Oldest Newspaper Contest to four. Lemke says she has other old editions and may have yet another entry.

As a reminder, the deadline for the Oldest Newspaper Contest has been extended into September.

The winner of the contest will receive a bronze plaque and $100 will be donated in the person's name to the Lakes Region Historical Society.

The winner may keep his copy of the oldest newspaper or donate it to the historical society.

One of the reasons the News-Reporter is sponsoring the contest is because early publishers did not keep complete records and did not save all issues of the paper. This is the 100th year of publication for the Antioch News.

To enter, bring the paper to the News-Reporter's office at 952 Main St. for authentication and documentation. Dates and owners are being recorded. Dates are kept confidential and will be announced at the end of the contest. Officers of the Lakes Region Historical Society will help with the judging and authentication.

The Antioch News-Reporter is cooperating with the Illinois Historical Society and the Antioch Twp. Library to microfilm the earliest editions available that can be safely recorded.

Fill Yer Hand!

All Antioch Police Officers receive field training in the proper use of firearms on a special range designed by officers Chuck Watkins and George Broecker. Seventy percent of officers who are injured in shooting incidents nationwide failed to use cover properly. This course was designed to instruct Antioch officers in the proper use of cover as well as testing for accurate marksmanship.

Tragic Collision Takes Five Boaters' Lives

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Tourist officials estimate that over 30,000 people go boating on the Chain O'Lakes each weekend during the summer. Five who went over Labor Day will not be going home again.

In what is being called the worst single disaster in the history of the Chain O'Lakes, five are dead and one injured after an early morning collision between two boats on the Fox Lake on Labor Day, Sept. 1.

Dead are Chet Francke, 28, of Fox Lake; Wayne Anderson, 28, of Lake Villa; James Brankin of Rolling

Meadows; and two sisters, Lisa, 23, and Laura Messenger, 25, of Arlington Heights.

Patrick Flohr, 26, the lone survivor, was resting in fair condition at the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry at press time. Flohr is a resident of Round Lake.

Lt. Tom Gardner, head of the Lake County Sheriff's Water Patrol Division, said that an eyewitness report gave Sheriff's Police details of the accident.

According to the witness,

Brankin and the two Messenger sisters were cruising slowly in a 19-foot Master Craft boat about 300 yards south of Indian Point. A 21-foot Four Winds model power boat, driven by Anderson and carrying Francke and Flohr as passengers came rippling through the dark mist at an estimated speed of 60 miles per hour and tore the front off of the Master Craft boat.

Although their bodies were tossed into the water, police believe that Brankin and the Messenger sisters were killed by the impact of the collision. Anderson's head was pinned between the upper and lower sections of the hull of his boat, killing him and leading police to believe that the force of the impact must have caused the two sections to separate briefly before the power boat hit the water again. Flohr was not thrown from the boat, but the crash caused him to lose consciousness briefly. When he came to, he heard Francke struggling in the water and crying for help. Francke went down before Flohr was able to help him.

Police divers recovered the four bodies from the water before daybreak.

Babcox noted that until this incident, there had not been a boating fatality on the Chain for two years. He said that his office will have extra patrols on the lakes, having each man work an extra four hours. At times there were double the normal amount of patrols on the lakes during the holiday weekend.

Stagman said that Babcox should have known that there was a particular need for extra patrols near the taverns.

"I will anticipate problems and find solutions; not make excuses afterwards," Stagman said. "Babcox is a phony politician, not an intelligent law-enforcement official."

Babcox said that he had talked with State Sen. Adeline Ge-Karla on Tuesday, Sept. 2, and that he will be meeting with her and other state legislators, as well as representatives of the county board, Chain O'Lakes area police chiefs, and managers of the resorts and the marinas to try to find more sensible policies to make the Chain safer.

"I will speak to our legislators that boat operators be held responsible for their actions," Babcox said. "I am not against the boat operator who has a license and wants to have a safe boating type operation with no drama and no problems. I am against the person who wants to do something illegal or who wants to do something that is not safe for the public."

Stagman, Babcox and several other local officials have been pushing for a state law that would require all boat operators to have a license and to be certified in boating safety.

"I think it is important that we have a state law that requires all boat operators to have a license and to be certified in boating safety," Stagman said. "It is important that we have a state law that requires all boat operators to have a license and to be certified in boating safety."

Tax Book Available

"Did you know the Lake County clerks office has a handy little booklet called 'fax about tax' that tells you step by step how your real estate taxes are arrived at?" asks County Clerk Linda Hess. "And it is written in common, everyday language all of us can understand."

"This booklet was originally written by former County Clerk Grace Mary Stern. We recently took a look at the information in order to update it. But laws and procedures have pretty much remained the same, so we just had the booklet reprinted," Hess explained.

"We sent a supply of the booklets to all township assessors in Lake County and they have reported the booklets are very popular. Many have asked for additional copies," she added.

Copies of this informative booklet are available at your township assessor's office or at the Lake County clerks office in Waukegan.

Offer Skills Class

The YWCA of Lake County will be offering a six-week office skills class starting Sept. 9. The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to noon at the YWCA, located at 445 N. Genesee, Waukegan.

The classes are designed for women seeking employment and wanting to upgrade their office skills or as an introduction to office procedures. Tuition for the class is $25.

The YWCA also offers free employment assistance on an individual basis. The program is especially designed to assist women who have been out of the work force for some time. Services include career counseling, resume writing, interviewing techniques and job placement referrals.

For information about these services or to register for the class, call Sally Foster or Denise Bryant at (312) 662-4248.

Lodge Honors

Members of the Grayslake Rising Sun Lodge 115 honored one of their own and a community member at a dinner last week.

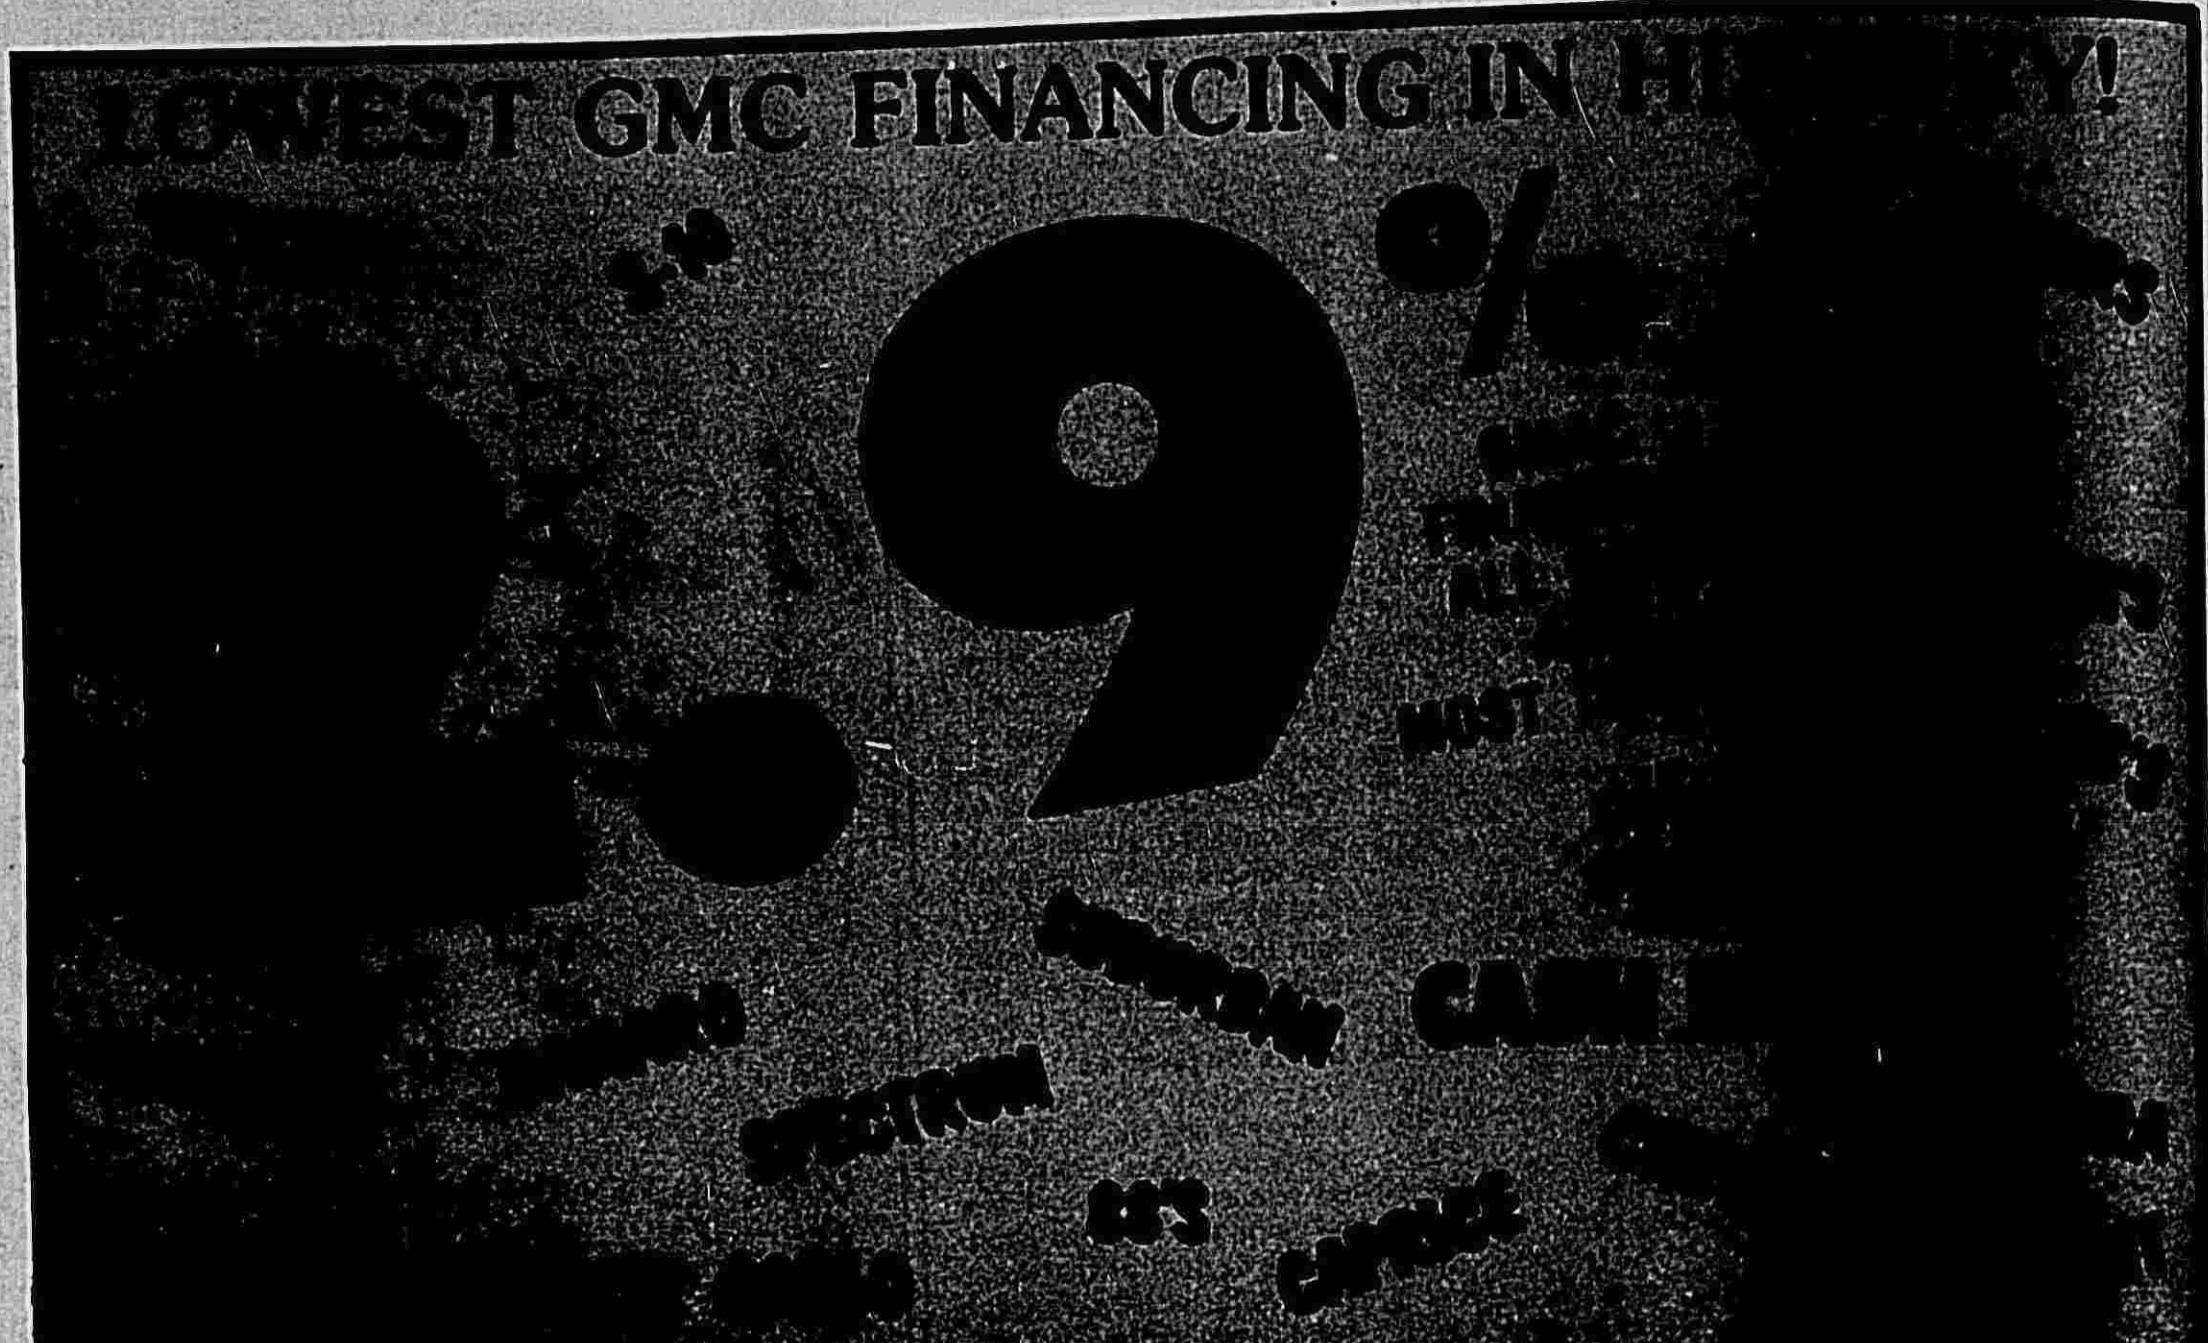

Jerry Ming, owner of Jerry's Parkway Foods in Grayslake, won the lodge's Community Builders Award. Ming was cited for donating some of the store's profits to help a local family.

"That's what Masonry is all about, helping people," Worshipful Master Harry Schippers said.

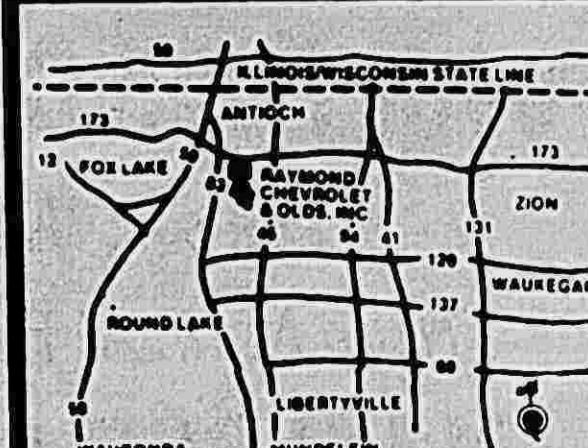

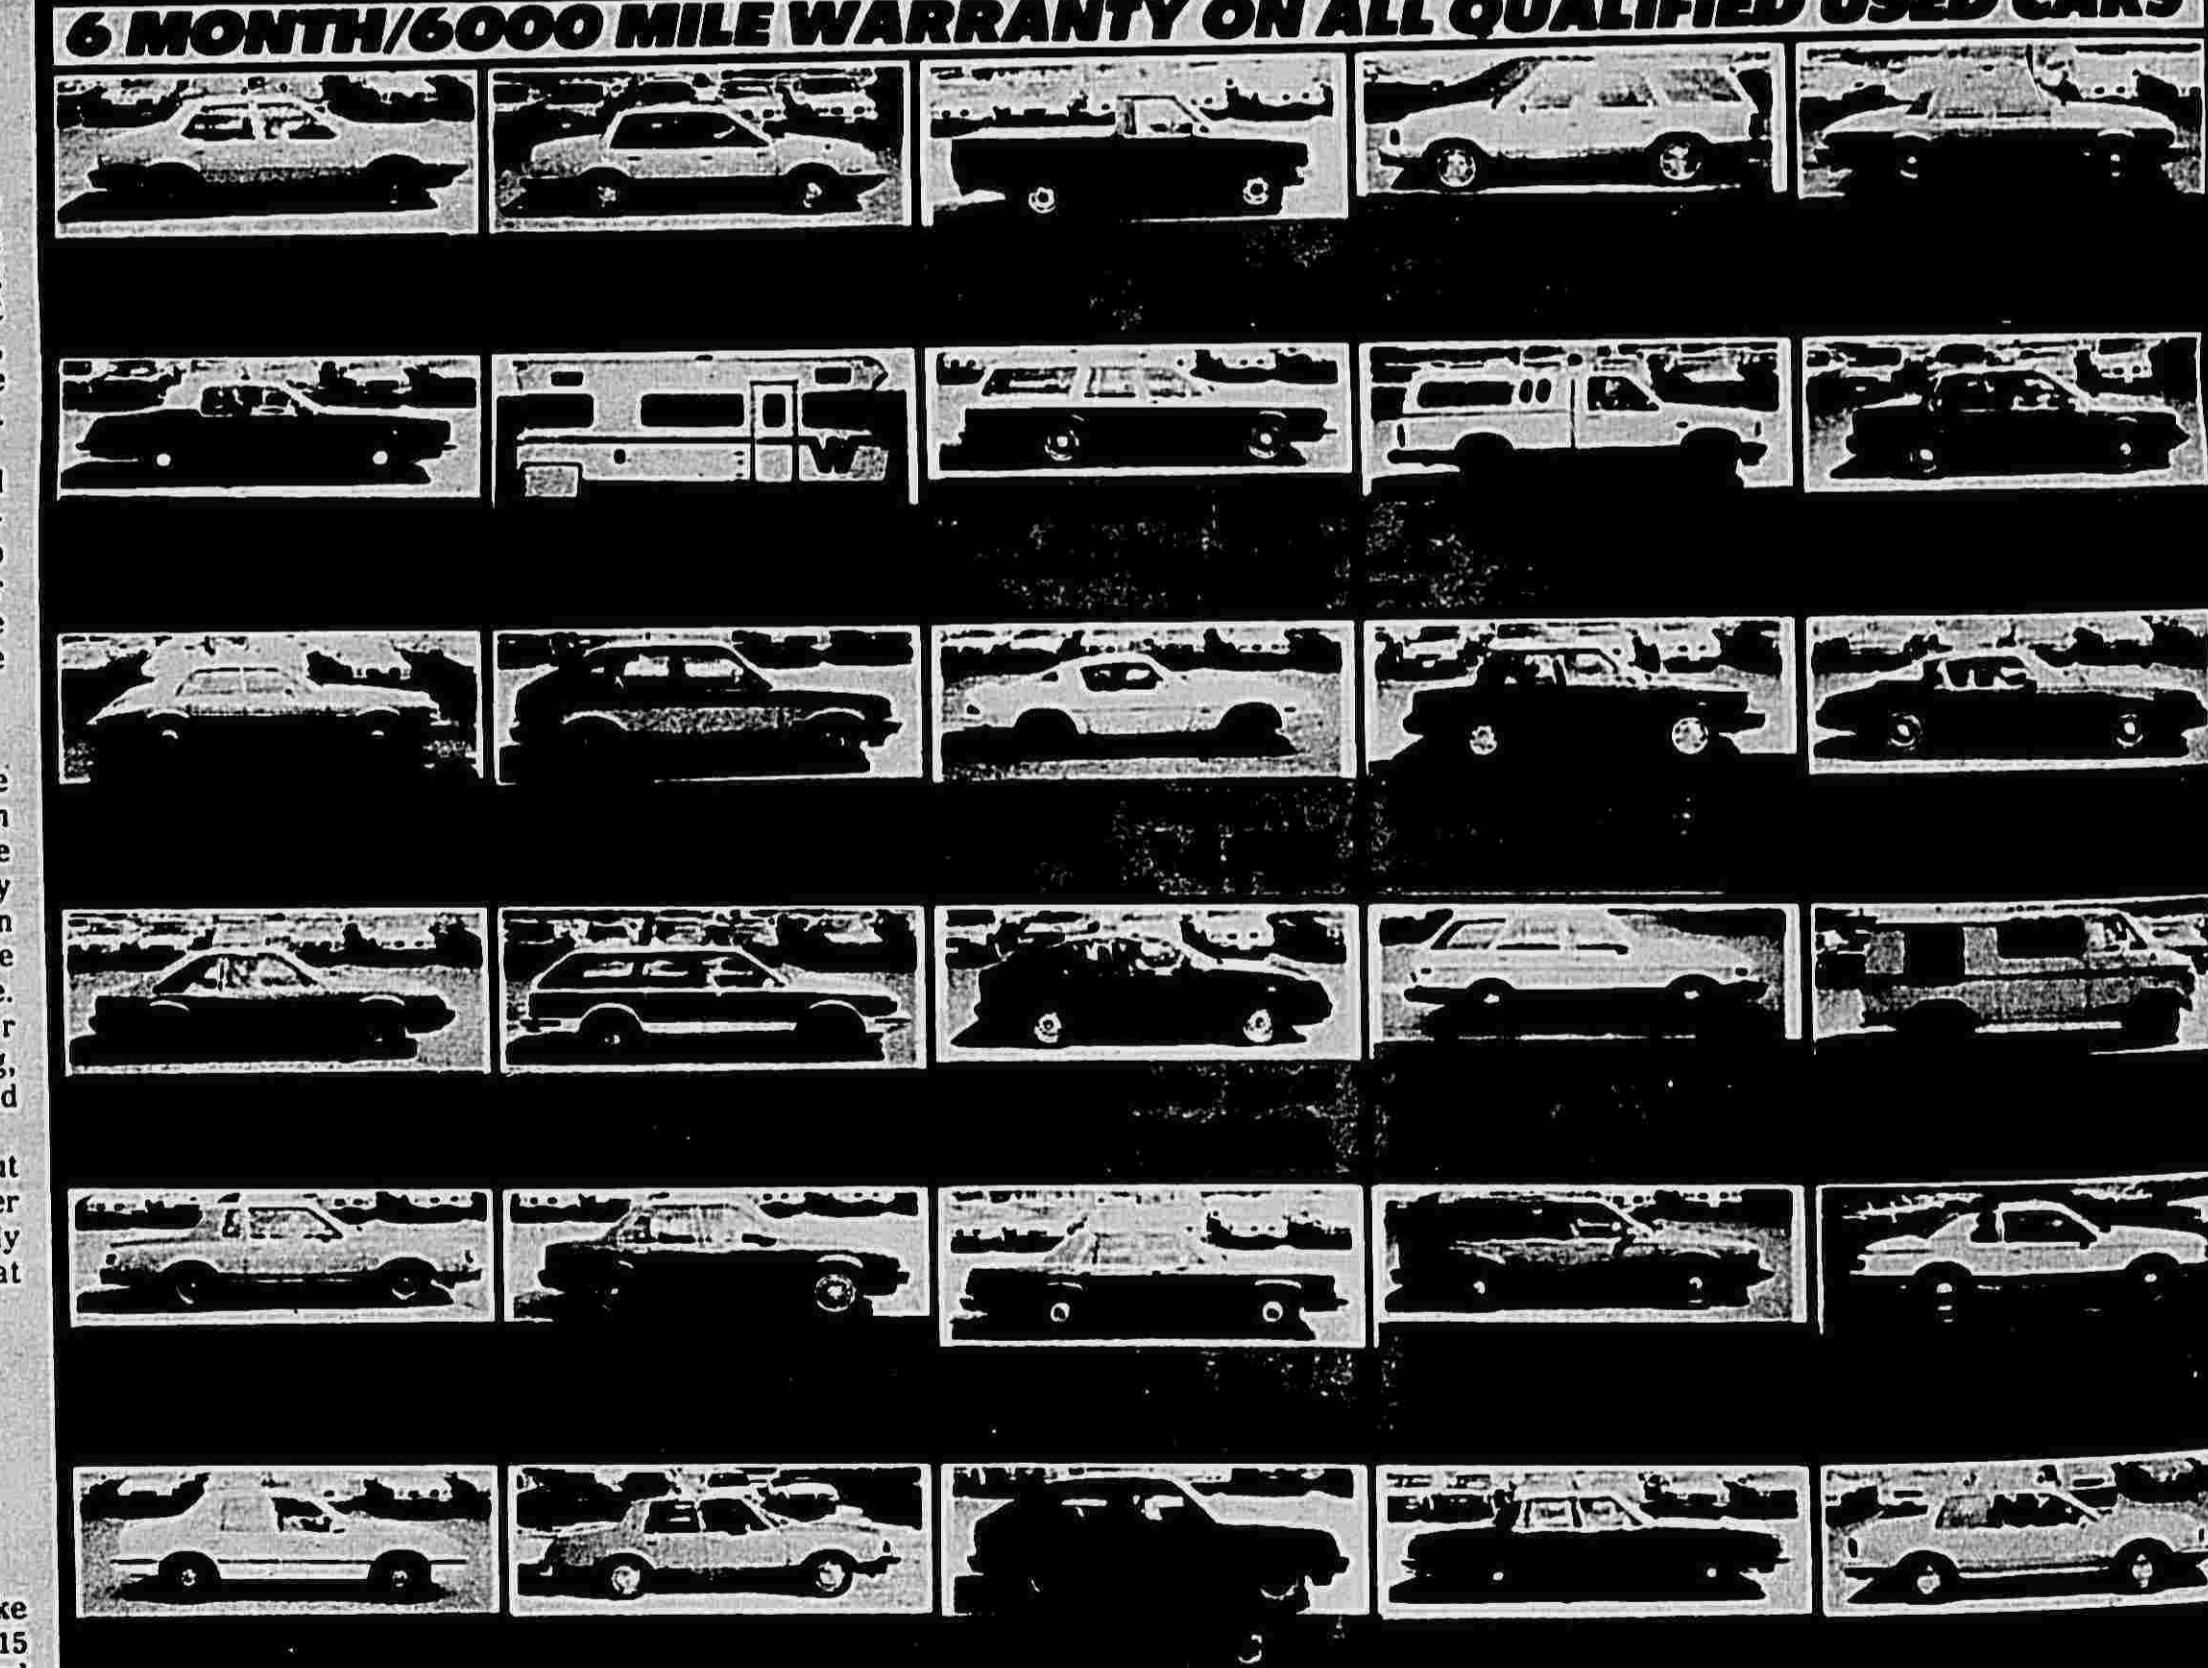

Lodge member A. Taso Maravelas was cited for spreading the word on the lodge.

After the dinner, members and guests enjoyed the lodge's annual picnic.

Coaches See Dogfight For NWSC Championship

For two years, Marian Central ruled the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Sixteen games, sixteen wins for the Hurricanes and of course, two league championships.

Then came a certain Saturday in October, 1985.

Host Round Lake upset Marian 14-7, ending the streak at 17 games.

"That win showed the rest of the conference that Marian is human; they are not invincible," Round Lake coach Mike Dunn said.

Round Lake ended the season on top in the league with a 6-3 record. Marian went on to the final four in Class 2A, but the seed was already planted for this fall's predictions.

"I think there are four or five teams that could win it," Johnsburg coach Mike Roberts said.

Roberts said Round Lake's Panthers are the team to beat, however.

"Coach Dunn has turned the whole program around. He has really put everything together. Marian Central will be right there, though and Lake Zurich and Grant will be good," Roberts said.

A look at how the league shapes up by predicted order of finish:

Round Lake: The Panthers are coming off one of their best seasons ever under third year head coach Mike Dunn. Co-champs of the Northwest Suburban Conference last season, they are expected to be in the thick of things again this year.

Gone from last year's championship team are all-conference players Troy Haines, Dave Kaempf, Gary Jeffery, Rodney Yanez, Jim DeLeon and Bobby Porteous.

Normally, when a team loses six all-conference players to graduation they are in for a disappointing season the next year. That's not the case with the Panthers.

Dunn has starting quarterback Walter

Tesch back for his senior year, along with all-conference performers Jim Ridlen and Mikel Fox.

The offense also has running back Chuck Bunker returning, who will be running behind guard Pat Molitor, tackle Tito Hernandez and center Pat Bruenning.

Tesch has a couple of fine receivers to throw to in wide receiver Damon Horn and tight end Joe Belcher. Dunn said junior Tom Carol will see a lot of action at split end as will senior Robby Akers. Belcher was a starter for the Panthers last year as a junior.

Promising juniors include offensive guard Jeff Shook and running back John Douchette.

"I think our attitude is the backbone of our team. We've had a great off-season and I think our kids will give 100 percent," Dunn said.

Round Lake has 57 kids out for the team this year and during the pre-season they developed a team theme, "Operation Teamwork."

"That explains our situation. We're going to work together as a team and win as a team," the coach said.

Grant: One thing you can say about the way Grant football coach Mike Rogoski starts his players off on a new year: he doesn't take matters lightly.

Take practice, for example.

Before school started, the fifth-year Grant mentor had the Bulldogs workout three times every day. Despite that kind of schedule, not one of the 32 Bulldogs have called it quits.

"The kids know they have confidence," Rogoski said.

Last year, Grant was just a few points here and a few points there away from a successful season. The Bulldogs finished 4-5 overall. One of those five losses was a dramatic double-overtime defeat at Marian Central.

Rogoski has been emphasizing that if the Bulldogs wish to leave Grant with a better feeling, then a class act is needed - both on and off the field.

"The highest intangible is how the kids conduct themselves off the field. On the field, they work hard and hustle but off the field they need to work on it a little harder. We're trying to make the kids more accountable. Football is won with emotion and desire," the coach said.

The Grant roster sports 14 seniors, making the fall of 1986 something Rogoski has been waiting for.

"We've been waiting for this year for three years," he said.

Anchoring Grant's efforts will be the so-called "skilled" positions.

Garry Glausver, a senior, is the likely starter at quarterback.

Brothers Kevin and Brad Frystak will be playing tailback and fullback, respectively.

Kevin Frystak earned all-NWS honors his sophomore year while Brad Frystak earned all-NWSC accolades last year at linebacker.

Wide receivers include Kevin Psomas, a senior; Mark Bertos, a senior and senior Mike Mac Donald.

Bertos will be handling the field goals and punting.

Randy Roes and Mitch Meyers will be anchoring the offensive and defensive lines.

Defensively, Rogoski said the Bulldogs will be blitzing out of a 5-2 formation.

Grant opens the Lakeland football season against Jacobs Sept. 5 at 8 p.m.

Going into this year, Rogoski has compiled a 17-19 record at Grant. With a little senior leadership, execution and dedication, perhaps this is the year the Bulldogs will get over the sub-.500 hump.

Johnsburg: As far as Johnsburg coach Mike Roberts is concerned, how his Skyhawks perform this fall may in large part be determined from within.

"You've got to believe in yourself. That's what separates the great teams from the good teams," Roberts said.

Roberts started his career as Johnsburg's head coach on a disappointing note.

"We were 2-7 but we lost five of those games by less than a touchdown," Roberts said.

His team will be dominated by seniors, as 19 players are in their final high school year.

The offensive backfield promises to be a strength for the Skyhawks this season.

Senior quarterback Frank Husak will direct Johnsburg out of an option attack.

"Husak is a good, all-around athlete. He has a great attitude, and he has the skills. He has worked very hard on techniques this summer," Roberts said.

Of the option, the coach said, "We'll play-action pass. Opponents will have to play us honest."

One of Husak's strengths, Roberts said, will be his effectiveness in the open field.

Jeff Heumann, a senior, gives Husak a reliable receiver to throw to. "Jeff is the fastest kid on the team," Roberts said of Heumann.

Jon Pigott, Dave Shedbaker, Juan Caratachea, Eric Mellum and Paul Polep are also listed as wide receivers.

Transfer quarterbacks Ron Davis from New Trier and Robert Davis from North Boone along with Chris Bonus give Johnsburg quarterback depth.

Defensively, Johnsburg returns linebacker Charlie Giovanni, an all-Northwest Suburban Conference selection at linebacker last year and Emil Marunde at linebacker. Marunde will also see time at defensive back.

Mark Adams, who Roberts says "has great athletic ability" is expected to play both ways on the line.

Question marks that may hinder the Skyhawks success include depth and the line play.

"We have a lot of people going both ways. We don't have a lot of depth," the coach said.

"There's no reason why the line can't be good. If they develop, we could have a real good year. If they don't we'll be 2-7 again," Roberts said.

Grayslake: Harold Jahnke must have liked what he saw the first day of practice. He returned to coaching and greeted 38 players. The Rams are coming off a 1-8 season, as at least Jahnke will have the number of bodies needed to rebuild a program.

"It's better than it has been in the last few years," Jahnke said.

Jahnke replaces Tom Wittum, who resigned earlier this summer.

Grayslake has been on a downward slide in football the past few seasons, and Jahnke sees confidence as a necessary factor in the rebuilding process.

"I'm trying to work on our confidence. We've got a pretty good attitude now," the coach said.

Jahnke is using a simple-is-better approach to his return to the gridiron wars. "We're going to try to do a few things but do them well," Jahnke said.

The Rams' efforts will be led by five letterwinners from last year's squad.

They include quarterback Mike Langer, halfback John Kavanaugh, guard Joe Gritmacker, halfback Shawn Walkington and junior fullback Jason Samuelson.

Offensively, Jahnke said the Rams will run the ball more than they have.

Defense will be the team's strongest point, Jahnke said.

Langer returns at safety along with Greg Dunski. Linebackers returning are Samuelson, John Patzka, Walkington and Jeff Bonfanti.

Juniors on the squad are Pat McDonough at backup quarterback, Mark Bussone at cornerback, Steve Smith at end and defensive end and Troy Michaels at safety.

Other juniors include Rich Hensley at center, Jason Schwenn at linebacker, Larry Laycock at safety and Rodney Buckley at tackle. Jon Floyd, Ed Schad, Mike O'Shea, Glen Mitchell, Cory Clowers, Shawn Maritz, Paul Maggio, Steve Trepianer and Brad Olson round out the squad.

Wauconda: Attend a Wauconda football practice, and one will see the normal elements of a high school practice.

Coaches encouraging players, players running through plays, doing push-ups, sit-ups and jogging laps are a few of the situations.

Like many high school coaches, Fred

Loffredo watches, encourages and organizes. But unlike some coaches, he is actually in some of the plays.

That's because with only 26 players on the roster, the Bulldogs need all the bodies they can find to field a practice.

"The number of players is down from the last few years. We don't have any depth," Loffredo said.

The Bulldogs are coming off a 3-6 year and to be successful this year, seven lettermen will be counted on heavily.

Senior Todd Marlowe returns at quarterback; Scott Lackey at flanker and Jerry DeLaurentis at flanker. Also, Robert Haefke at fullback and Jeff Gomel at end come back.

Dan Torres, a senior tackle, will lead the linemen.

"He's a fine football player," Loffredo said of Torres. Torres is listed as 6-0, 215.

Loffredo said he would like the Bulldogs to develop consistency throughout the year.

Offensively, he plans on using a multiple offense out of a pro-set. Defensively, the Bulldogs will work out of a 5-2.

Despite the low numbers, Loffredo points to one area as a strength for Wauconda. For the first time in a few years, freshmen football is back at WHS.

"I'd say we are on the upswing," the coach said.

Seniors on the squad include Matt Ohsmier, Rick Troxer, Ed Brown, John Santler, Mike Ryan and Todd Fortin.

Juniors are Brian McGovern, Drew Chasnier, Dave Vonderhaar, Gary Mulder, Cory Daun, Shawn Mikeworth, Sam Calandra, Ken Wick, Keith Zersen and Mark Sutherland.

Fitzgibbons, Jahnke Try To Rebuild Programs

by STEVE PETERSON

Grayslake and Carmel may play in different leagues, with different size enrollments and one may be Catholic while another is public.

So one may expect neither to have much in common.

But when the football season starts in earnest this weekend, the Rams and the Corsairs will have something in common on the sidelines.

Both schools will have new head coaches that will be faced with the challenge of rebuilding programs.

Harold Jahnke, the school's athletic director, takes Grayslake's top football position while Mike Fitzgibbons starts at Carmel.

"I like being with kids," Jahnke, who is ending a five-year hiatus from the whistle and the clipboard set, said.

"I like the practices but I like the games more. I like trying to outwit the opposition and trying to find their weak spot," Jahnke said.

Both teams had a disappointing season last year and have been on a downward slide for the last few years.

Grayslake lost eight of nine games while the Corsairs won three contests in 1985.

Jahnke has had plenty of coaching experience to draw on, coaching at Luther South before taking the athletic director's job at Grayslake.

"The x's and o's never go away from you. The biggest thing about being a head coach is making sure that you have the right people in the right places," Jahnke said.

For Fitzgibbons, the new season will mean stepping up in rank. Last year he was head sophomore coach at Carmel and the younger Corsairs went 7-2. Many of those players may be expected to contribute this fall.

"I'm very excited about the new challenge I have as head coach. There is a little pressure on me, but that's natural. I think I'll make it through this season," the new Carmel coach said.

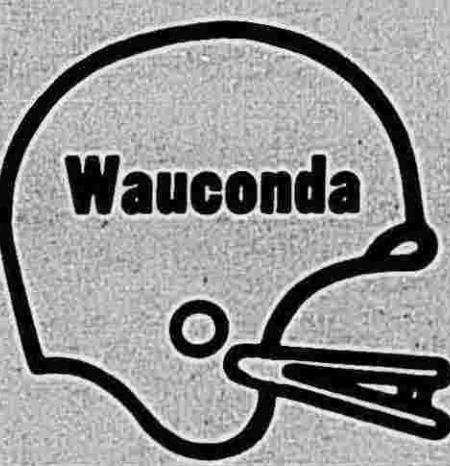

Carmel hopes to catch some East Suburban Catholic foes napping with a new offense and defense installed by Fitzgibbons.

Besides the new coaches, the teams have another tie.

Tom Wittum, who left the Grayslake head job earlier this summer, is now an assistant under Fitzgibbons.

Fitzgibbons said he is pleased to have Wittum's varsity coaching experience on his staff.

Jahnke and Fitzgibbons are both in for an experience they will remember.

NWSC Team Capsule Profiles

Round Lake

Head Coach: Mike Dunn (3rd season)

1985 Record: 6-4/overall and 6-1/conference (champions). Lost to Antioch 27-7 in IHSA first round.

Nickname: Panthers

1985 All-conference Performers: Fox and Ridlen

Keys For A Successful Year: Coach Dunn believes the Panthers can repeat as champions of the Northwest Suburban if they stay injury free and get their share of the breaks. Dunn said his team has had a great off-season in the weight room. He said his players have a first-class attitude and a "commitment to excellence."

Team Theme: Operation Teamwork

Predicted Finish: 1st-The Panthers return a group of talented seniors and Dunn has turned the program around to make Round Lake a force to be reckoned with. The major key to the season is the performance of Tesch at quarterback.

Grant

Head Coach: Mike Rogoski (5th season)

1985 Record: 4-5 overall

Nickname: Bulldogs

Top Returnees: OFFENSE - Garry Glousver (QB); Mike Kazlausky (TB); Mike MacDonald (WR); Kevin Frystak (RB); DEFENSE: Brad Frystak (LB); Mitch Meyers (DE); Randy Rous (DT); Kurt Pous(LB).

1985 All-conference Performers: Kevin Frystak, Brad Frystak.

Keys For a Successful Year: Grant should be strong in the backfield but a lack of size could hamper the Bulldogs. Coach Rogoski has had his players go through three-a-day workouts, and that should get them ready for the Sept. 5 opener against Jacobs.

Predicted Finish: 3rd - Grant came within a point or two of seven wins and a playoff berth last year. Rogoski said he has been waiting for this fall for three years and with good reason - 14 seniors are on the team. However, dedication off the field will be necessary for Grant to climb that .500 plateau and contend for a league championship.

Johnsburg

Head Coach: Mike Roberts (2nd season)

1985 Record: 2-7 overall

Nickname: Skyhawks

Top Returnees: OFFENSE - Frank Husak (QB); Jeff Heumann (WR); Pete Pegast (RB). DEFENSE - Charlie Giovani (LB); Mark Adams (DL), Emil Marunde (LB).

1985 All-conference Performers: Giovanni.

Keys For a Successful Year: The development of the offensive and defensive line should go a long way in Roberts' new option offense. Quarterback Husak should run it effectively. Defensively, play of linebackers will be a factor.

Predicted Finish: 5th - Johnsburg should finish at or near the .500 mark and could double last year's victory total. A new option offense should give the Skyhawk fans something exciting to watch.

However, a lack of depth and the overall improvement of the NWSC could stand in the Skyhawks way.

Experienced Backfield

Grayslake

Head Coach: Harold Jahnke (1st Season)

1985 Record: 1-8 overall

Nickname: Rams

Top Returnees: OFFENSE - Mike Langer (QB); John Kavanaugh (HB); Jason Samuelson (FB). DEFENSE - Shawn Walkington (LB); Joe Gritmeyer (NG); John Patzka (LB).

1985 All-conference Performers: None.

Keys For a Successful Year: Jahnke has 38 players to work with - more than usual for the Rams. That should give him some flexibility in his first year as head coach. Development of quarterback Langer and the rest of the offense will be a key.

Predicted Finish: 7th - Grayslake should win enough games to stay out of the Northwest Suburban Conference cellar. Jahnke's biggest task will be to install a winning attitude among his troops. After a 1-8 season, seniors should want to go out with something better to remember their high school careers by. Offensively, Jahnke will switch from Tom Wittum's pass emphasis to a running attack. Defense should be a plus. Three or four wins would give Jahnke something to build on, but Grayslake fans should not expect a playoff year.

Wauconda

Head Coach: Fred Loffredo (9th season)

1985 Record: 3-6 overall

Nickname: Bulldogs

Top Returnees: OFFENSE - Matt Smyth (QB), Dan Torres (T), Jeff Gormel (E), Scott Laurey (FL); DEFENSE: Smyth, Rubert Mafek and Bob Durdick.

Returning 1985 All-conference Performers: None.

Keys For a Successful Year: No injuries. With a limited number of players, the Bulldogs will be seeking quality rather than quantity. Development of junior quarterback Smyth, senior signal-caller Todd Marlowe and tackle Torres and the rest of the offensive backfield will be a key. Loffredo said he has "five or six frontline players, but will need to find the diamond in the rough.

Predicted Finish: 8th - Wauconda won three games last year, and should be happy with three wins this fall. Twenty-six players are listed on the roster, and an injury to any one of them could mean bringing up underclassmen. However, opponents should not take the Bulldogs lightly because they will be aiming to upset a team which may think it is playoff-bound.

'First-Year Blues' Now Behind Three Area Coaches

by STEVE PETERSON

The first year, they say, is always the hardest.

Such was the case for three area football head coaches who are heading into their sophomore years at the helm.

Reggie Hughes' Warren Twp. High School 1985 edition finished a disappointing 3-6. Meanwhile at Johnsburg, Mike Roberts' Skyhawks struggled through a 2-7 season. Bob Brothman also had a tough start at North Chicago as the Warhawks fell to 1-8.

"I learned there is a lot more to football than x's and o's," Hughes said.

While Hughes was in his first year as headman in the North Suburban Conference school, he was certainly no stranger to WTHS. He had served since the 1970s as an assistant Blue Devil coach.

"There are a lot of things you have to worry about as a head coach," Hughes said.

Roberts agreed.

"As a head coach, you have to know all the phases of the game," Roberts said. "You better know all 11 positions and get to know everything that's going on."

Hughes, Roberts and Brothman all had to be organizers for the first time last year. That meant everything from setting up practice schedules, giving scouting assignments, making sure uniforms are in order to dealing with the techniques of proper blocking.

Roberts said there is a big difference between his first training camp as mentor and his second.

"I feel much more comfortable this year," he said.

Roberts has had to replace offensive coordinator Bill Hurkles, who left to accept an assistant's position at Augustana College.

Roberts has been with Johnsburg for five years as an assistant.

Todd Lewiston and Jim Meyers will be assisting Roberts.

Rich Mueller, Kim Cummings and Tony Flippo will be handling the assistant's positions at Warren.

NSC Teams Seek To Knock Off Scouts, 'Cats

Perfection, or near perfection, seems to be the watchword in the North Suburban Conference.

If league coaches plan to finish in the loop's high-rent district, then an absolute minimum number of losses will be required. The last two years, the champion has been undefeated.

"Lake Forest looks to be the strongest on paper," Warren Twp. High School coach Reggie Hughes said.

Conference coaches also point to defending champ Libertyville as a probable contender.

Last year, the Wildcats finished 9-0 in the league. Antioch made the playoffs as well with a 7-2 mark.

Lake Forest and Libertyville are the two best teams in the conference, according to Lakeland's predicted finish.

A look at how Lakeland area teams - Warren, Antioch, Mundelein and North Chicago shape up:

Mundelein: The Mustangs should make a good run for the North Suburban Conference crown this year. They have the talent, the experience and the proper mental attitude to finish on top.

Coach Gary Heffner, in his ninth season as head coach, has 42 kids out for the team this year, eight of which are returning starters.

All-conference selection in 1985, Jeff Geary is back for his senior year with the Mustangs. Geary played on both, offense (flanker) and defense (defensive back), last season.

Other top returnees include John McNulty (split end and defensive back) and quarterback Mike Lech, who also started at the free safety spot last year.

Three other offensive starters who are back for another year are Tom Johnson (guard), Tony Piantini (guard) and Dave Rogers (tailback).

Defensively, Heffner has two standouts returning, Mike Joeger (linebacker) and Scott Kapchinski (tackle).

Promising juniors who will see a lot of action include Mike Kranza (nose tackle) and defensive linemen, Brian Deardorff, Kevin Anderson and Bruce Zelenko.

"We definitely have playoff potential this year. We have a lot of experience and talent at the skill positions, and we hope these players can make the big plays for us," Heffner said.

"We're not all that big, but I think we have the speed necessary to make a run at the conference crown," he added.

Heffner said his team's major weakness is varsity inexperience at the defensive line positions.

"We're young there, but those kids are aggressive and I think they'll surprise a lot of people," he said.

Warren: Oh, if only the schedule would cooperate.

"We've had great practices this week. If only we could play tomorrow," Warren football coach Reggie Hughes said.

But unfortunately for Warren, Hughes was making those comments the third week of practice instead of the fourth-game week. It is up to the Blue Devils to keep the momentum going into the Sept. 6 opener against Niles North.

The Blue Devils are hoping to make 1986 a year to remember and 1985 a year in the distant past.

Warren is coming off a 3-6 year. The previous year, 1984, Warren had made the playoffs.

Hughes was in his first year as head coach last fall, but that does not mean he was new to WTHS. He had spent enough years as an assistant to know 3-6 is not the way Warren likes to be known in football.

"Three and six is not Warren football," Hughes said.

To turn things around and be above .500 and possibly contend for post-season play, Hughes points to a strong defense and big linemen as pluses.

"We're probably bigger than we've been in the past few years," he said.

The Blue Devils sport an experienced crew, with 19 seniors on a roster that boasts close to 50 players.

Returning from last year include defensive back Sam Diamantopoulos, listed at 5'11, 153 pounds; defensive back Bart Edwards, 6'0, 150; junior linebacker Mike Jones and senior linebacker Mike Rivera.

On the line, Warren has seven players listed as 200 pounds or better. They are: senior John Dollenmaier, 205; Erik Divelbiss, 209; Mark Kaminsky, 210; Brian Jarrell, 223; Jamie Loggins, 230 and Brian Snell, 245.

The offense could be a question mark at WTHS.

"For this team to make the playoffs, we will have to generate some more offense. We've got to work on developing offensive potency," Hughes said.

Junior Derek Shelton and senior Tom Thompson are expected to play the majority of the time at quarterback.

Mike Jones, a senior is expected to play at one running back spot while Brian Lachman and Scot Lidstrom may see action as well.

Hughes said he plans on continuing to use the I-formation on offense.

"I hope we can get some passing in to supplement the running game," the coach said.

Jarrell will be Warren's tight end.

Battling for playing time at wide receiver are: Diamantopoulos, Edwards, Mike Schlicht, Brian Sitz, Eric Graning and Derek Londo.

Warren has had to prepare for a season opener somewhat differently than other teams.

The Blue Devils have had to contend with the building of a new high school at the Gurnee site. That resulted in some early morning practices for Warren.

But eventually, Warren hopes, the schedule becomes a benefit.

Antioch: The Sequoits are in deep trouble this year after losing 17 of 21 starters from last year's 9-3 team.

Steve Wapon, whose nine-year record as head coach of the Sequoits stands at 55-27, said it's going to be very difficult for his team to seriously challenge for the North Suburban Conference title.

"We are a very inexperienced, untested team. There are still several positions, offense and defense, where I don't have the slightest idea who'll be starting," he said.

Gone from last year's squad, which was defeated in the IHSA quarterfinals by Forest View 16-7, are all-conference/county players Mike Dobosh, quarterback, guard Bob Johnson and tackle Matt Humphreys.

Also lost to graduation are all-conference performers Tom Homan, Pat Bruks, Bob Visee and James Zoephel.

Top returnees for the Sequoits include tight end Brian Pankauskas, guard Steve Pappadakis, defensive tackle Jim Smith and defensive end Dale Gade.

Wapon lost nine of 11 starters on offense and eight of 11 on defense.

"The team seems very eager and has worked very hard in the pre-season. The key to our season boils down to how fast our inexperienced players can get experienced. It looks like we have a long way to go," he said.

Wapon noted that other keys to a successful season include a scrappy defense, filling Dobosh's shoes, and the ability to run a balanced attack and put points on the board.

Junior Chris Polark is giving senior Wade Gilman a good battle for the starting quarterback spot, according to Wapon. If Gilman doesn't get the nod he will most likely start at wide receiver.

Seek To Knock

Wapon is looking for big things from juniors David Wick (tailback), who was on the varsity squad last year as a sophomore, and Scott Gooch, who kicked a 43-yard field goal last year on the sophomore level.

John Mehrt, split end, and Tom Durell, fullback, are probable starters on offense, as are linebackers Bob Cord, Sean Tuley and Joe Lehner on defense.

The other positions are up for grabs, according to Wapon.

"It's going to be rough to repeat last year's performance, but if these kids have anything going for them it's the Antioch football tradition. We may win a couple of games on our tradition alone," the coach said.

North Chicago: Things are looking a little brighter this year for North Chicago head coach Bob Brothman because he has five more kids to work with than he did last year. Brothman has 32 kids out this year, compared to 27 last season.

The Warhawks have a lot of work to do in order to put some respect back into the North Chicago football program. Last year, the Warhawks finished the season with a 1-8 record, the only victory coming over Niles North, who forfeited the contest.

Top returnees for the Warhawks include senior Corey Franklin (fullback, linebacker and defensive end), junior Thomas Newberry (offensive tackle and defensive end), senior Alan Turner (wide receiver and defensive back) and senior Theo Eddins (offensive guard).

Franklin, Newberry and Turner all played both ways for Brothman last season, with Newberry only being a sophomore.

The quarterback position is being sought

Those who will see plenty of action at the running back slot include juniors Eric Thompson and Tim Benjamin, and seniors Derrick Williams and Mark Beasley.

At wide receiver, juniors Anthony Burton and Steve Jones, along with senior Derrick Jones will see a lot of playing time.

Defensively, Brothman is looking for big things from junior Anton Bates at the defensive tackle spot.

"Overall, I think we're quicker and stronger than we were last year. If we stay away from serious injuries and keep our positive attitude, we should do better than last year," he said.

Corsairs Relying On Junior Class

The Carmel Corsairs, behind first-year head coach Mike Fitzgibbons, will try to rebound from last year's disappointing 3-6 season.

Carmel finished sixth in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, but Fitzgibbons feels his squad has a good chance of finishing in the upper division this year.

"I think we have a good chance of playing better than .500 ball. We have some experienced players coming back along with a promising junior class. Finishing in the upper division of our conference isn't out of our reach," he said.

Top returnees for the Corsairs include senior tackles Mike Reitz and Ken Godwin, along with linebackers Dave Goshgarian and Rob Graham, and cornerback Mike Graham.

Fitzgibbons, who coached the sophomore squad to a 7-2 overall record last season, is looking for a lot of leadership from these seniors. He's also looking for some promising performances from his talented junior class.

Juniors Jeff Zgonina, defensive end, and tailback Donell Foster, are both expected to be in the starting lineup. Other juniors expected to see a lot of action include linebackers Chris Drew, Robb Koseor and Bob Schroeder.

"One of the keys for us is to get great play from our juniors, which I think we will. I'm looking forward to seeing Foster and Zgonina play on the varsity level," Fitzgibbons said.

Battling it out for the starting quarterback spot are seniors Jerry Maloney and Steve Bruns. Foster will start at tailback, while senior Ken Sels and junior Mike Maciag will platoon at the fullback position.

Seniors Dan Halverson, Kurt Hein and John Hoffman will be the starting receivers. Halverson will start at tight end, while Hein and Hoffman will be the flanker and split end respectively.

The Corsairs will be running the ball 90 percent of the time, but Fitzgibbons said his quarterbacks can throw the ball effectively when they want to.

Defensively, Fitzgibbons said he will use a "4-4" approach, with four down-lineman and four linebackers.

"Playing good defense will be a major key to our season. The pressure is on our defense and I think we have the right personnel to keep our opponents out of the end zone," he said.

Fitzgibbons had added former NFL punter Tom Wittum to his coaching staff for the 1986 campaign. Wittum handles the outside linebackers and the wide receiving crew, as well as the kicking game.

Head Coach: Mike Fitzgibbons (1st season)

1985 Record: 3-6/overall and 2-5/conference (East Suburban Catholic).

Nickname: Corsairs

Top Returnees: OFFENSE-Mike Reitz (OT) and Ken Godwin (OT). DEFENSE-Dave Goshgarian (LB), Rob Graham (LB) and Mike Graham (Cornerback).

1985 All-conference Performers: None

Keys For A Successful Year: Coach Fitzgibbons feels his squad has a great chance of playing better than .500 ball this season. He's pleased with his team's attitude and is very impressed with what he's seen in practice thus far. The keys are to stay healthy and play "good" defense and to pass effectively when necessary.

Predicted Finish: The Corsairs have a good shot at finishing in the upper division of the East Suburban Catholic Conference and may even make a run for the conference crown. In order to do so, Fitzgibbons must get the proper leadership from his seniors and great performances from juniors Donell Foster (Tailback) and Jeff Zgonina (DE).

NSC Team Capsule Profiles

Mundelein

Head Coach: Gary Heffner (9th season)

1985 Record: 3-6/overall.

Nickname: Mustangs

Top Returnees: OFFENSE-Tom Johnson (OG), Tony Piantini (OG) and Dave Rogers (TB). DEFENSE-Mike Joeger (LB) and Scott Kapchinski (DT). BOTH-Jeff Geary (Flanker/Defensive Back), John McNulty (Split End/Defensive Back) and Mike Lech (QB/Free Safety).

1985 All-conference Performers: Geary Keys For A Successful Year: Coach Heffner is pretty confident that his 1986 team will better last year's output. He feels the key to success for this year will be the Mustangs' ability to make the big play. The Mustangs are a quick team and have a lot of experienced players at the skill positions. They must stay healthy and be very aggressive in the trenches.

Predicted Finish: 2nd-If there's a darkhorse team in this year's North Suburban Conference race, it has to be the Mundelein Mustangs. The Mustangs have the talent and the ability to win the conference outright, providing they get a break every now and then. Heffner feels his team is as good as anybody's, especially at the skill positions. Mundelein will get a playoff berth in 1986.

Warren

Head Coach: Reggie Hughes (2nd Season)

1985 Record: 3-6 overall

Nickname: Blue Devils

Top Returnees: OFFENSE - Tom Thompson (QB), Derek Shelton (QB); Brian Jarrell (TE), Brian Snell (OL), Jim Rung (OL); DEFENSE - Sam Diamantopoulos (DB); Troy Rivera (D.B.); John Dollenmaier (D.L.).

1985 All-conference Performers: None.

Keys For a Successful Year: The development of the offensive backfield should be a key factor. Hughes is looking for more offense from what he has seen in the first few weeks of practice. Defense should be a plus for Warren.

Predicted Finish: 6th - Warren should do better than its un-Warren like 3-6 record of last year. However, the Blue Devils play in the always tough North Suburban Conference. A realistic goal could be to near the .500 mark. That would bring WTHS back to respectability in Hughes' sophomore season as head mentor.

Antioch

Head Coach: Steve Wapon (9th season)

1985 Record: 9-3/overall and 7-2/conference. Lost to Forest View in IHSA quarterfinal 16-7.

Nickname: Sequoits

Top Returnees: OFFENSE-Brian Pankauskas (TE), Steve Pappadakis (OG) and David Wick (TB). DEFENSE-Jim Smith (DT), Dale Gade (DE), Bob Cord (LB) and Sean Tuley (LB).

1985 All-conference Performers: None

Keys For A Successful Year: Coach Wapon is in a rebuilding year, losing 17 of 21 starters from last year's squad. The loss of all-county junior quarterback Mike DoBosh is a huge loss for the Sequoits and has left them unstable at the quarterback position. The key, according to Wapon, will be how long it takes his inexperienced players to get experienced. He also believes his Sequoits must use a balanced attack in order to keep the defense honest. The other key is at the quarterback slot, where senior Wade Gilman and junior Chris Polark are battling for the starting job.

Predicted Finish: 7th - There are quite a few teams with a lot of returning starters in the North Suburban this year, especially Lake Forest and Libertyville. Antioch will not be in the race in 1986, but will provide some stiff competition throughout the season. Tradition alone will get the Sequoits a better than .500 record.

North Chicago

Head Coach: Bob Brothman (2nd season)

1985 Record: 1-8/overall.

Nickname: Warhawks

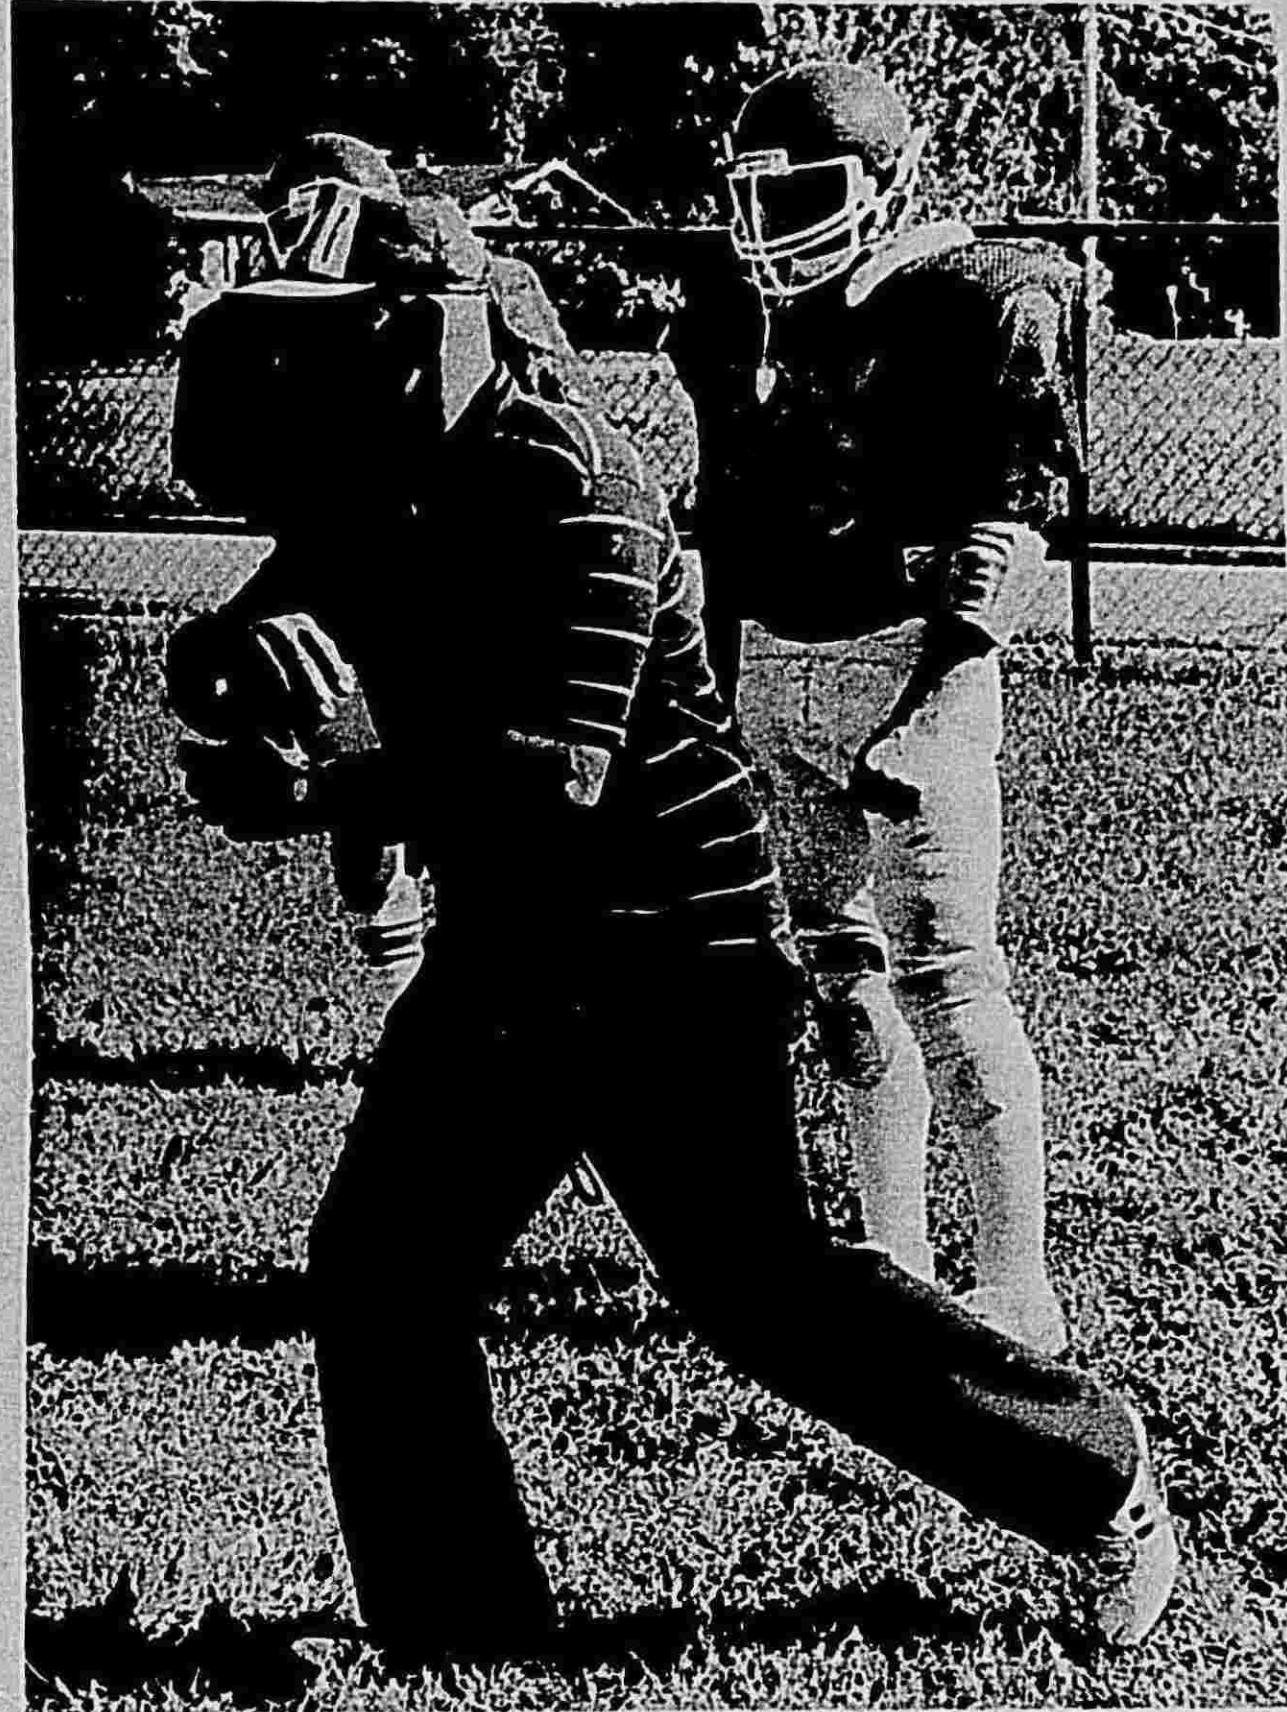

Top Returnees: Corey Franklin (RB, LB and DE), Thomas Newberry (Offensive Line and Defensive Line), Alan Turner (WR and DB) and Theo Eddins (Offensive Guard).

1985 All-conference Performers: None

Keys For A Successful Year: Coach Brothman's team has a long way to go. They are very young, with only 10 seniors on the 32-member squad. He feels the main key is to stay away from serious injuries because of a lack of depth at the skill positions. Also, Brothman believes his team will better last year's record if the kids keep the positive attitude they showed in the pre-season.

Predicted Finish: 10th-The Warhawks are in for another long season. The North Suburban Conference is too strong to figure the Warhawks in the top seven teams. North Chicago, Fenton and Niles North should be battling it out for the cellar.

How It's Done

Wauconda coach Fred Loffredo demonstrates a technique during a practice. Loffredo is working with a small squad this year, as 26 players are listed on the Bulldogs' varsity roster.

CLC Board Approves 1986-87 Budget

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees received good news on enrollment at their August meeting. Acting President

James Doppke reported that preliminary enrollment figures for the fall semester show an increase of nine percent over last year's figures at this time.

A total of 11,767 students are taking classes at CLC. Full time equivalent enrollment is 4,682, an increase of eight percent. The number of students attending CLC on a full-time basis is up 23 percent. Final enrollment figures will be calculated on the 10th day of classes.

The board went on to approve the 1986-87 budget which appropriates $15,102,376 for the educational fund and $2,748,242 for the operations, building and maintenance fund.

The board also authorized continuation of the Cooperative Education program. The program, in existence at CLC since 1981, has developed a strong partnership between education and business, and provides practical career experience for students in a variety of positions.

This year marks the first time since co-op's inception that CLC will provide full fiscal support. The program has previously been funded by federal grants. CLC is one of the few colleges to receive federal grant support for so many years.

The grants were designed to provide money for start-up costs to enable the college to build a successful co-op program. Co-op enrollment has increased from 33 the first year to 183 during the 1985-86 academic year. Over 300 companies have participated in the program.

Babcox Praises County Drug Enforcement Group

Lake County Sheriff Robert H. Babcox has praised the county drug enforcement group for their successful efforts in stemming the tide of illegal drugs entering Lake County.

The Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) is a network of state, county and municipal police units aimed at illegal drug trafficking in Illinois, the sheriff said.

Three Lake County sheriff's deputies were selected and trained to participate in county-wide drug/narcotic investigations with MEG, Babcox said. Other departments participating are Deerfield, Waukegan, Lake Forest, Zion, Libertyville, North Chicago, Illinois State Police, Winthrop Harbor and Round Lake Heights, he added.

Figures released by

Sheriff Babcox show that since 1983: total felony arrests, 215; total felony convictions, 118; felony arrests involving sale of cocaine, 77 percent; total felony arrests against drug dealers, 90 percent; street value of drugs confiscated, $3,178,999.

Babcox stated, "The undercover work has proven very successful and my office will continue to participate and provide officers from MEG."

He further added, "Our main concern is that we keep these illegal drugs away from our children, especially with schools opening their doors. We are going to be extra watchful for drug trafficking around schools."

Mundelein Man Receives Death Sentence In Killing

Wayne Rogers, 21, of Mundelein has been sentenced to death for the drug-related murder of a Vernon Hills man.

The sentence was handed down by Lake County Circuit Judge John Hughes on Aug. 22. Rogers also received a sentence of 60 years in prison for the wounding of another man in the same incident.

Rogers, and two other companions, Milton Muntaner, 19, and Kristine Locascio, 18, both of Mundelein, had been charged in the Dec. 6 slaying of Stephen McNulty, 20. John Grant, 21, of Northbrook, who was with McNulty at the time, was wounded.

In April, Locascio was found innocent of all charges of attempted murder, armed violence, conspiracy to commit robbery and conspiracy to commit murder by a Lake County Circuit Court jury.

Muntaner pleaded guilty to similar charges in exchange for a prison sentence of between 30 and 50 years.

The shooting took place on Gilmer Rd. near Schwermer Rd. outside Wauconda. Lake County Sheriff's investigators said the victims had been set up for a "phony drug deal." The two had agreed to meet their assailants to purchase a half ounce of cocaine.

Rogers' execution date has been set for Oct. 27. The sentence will be appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court.

THIS CHILD HAS 3000 AUNTS AND UNCLES.

His mother was alone when she came to Pasadena, California, and visited our Church of the Nazarene.

She had no job. She was pregnant and unmarried.

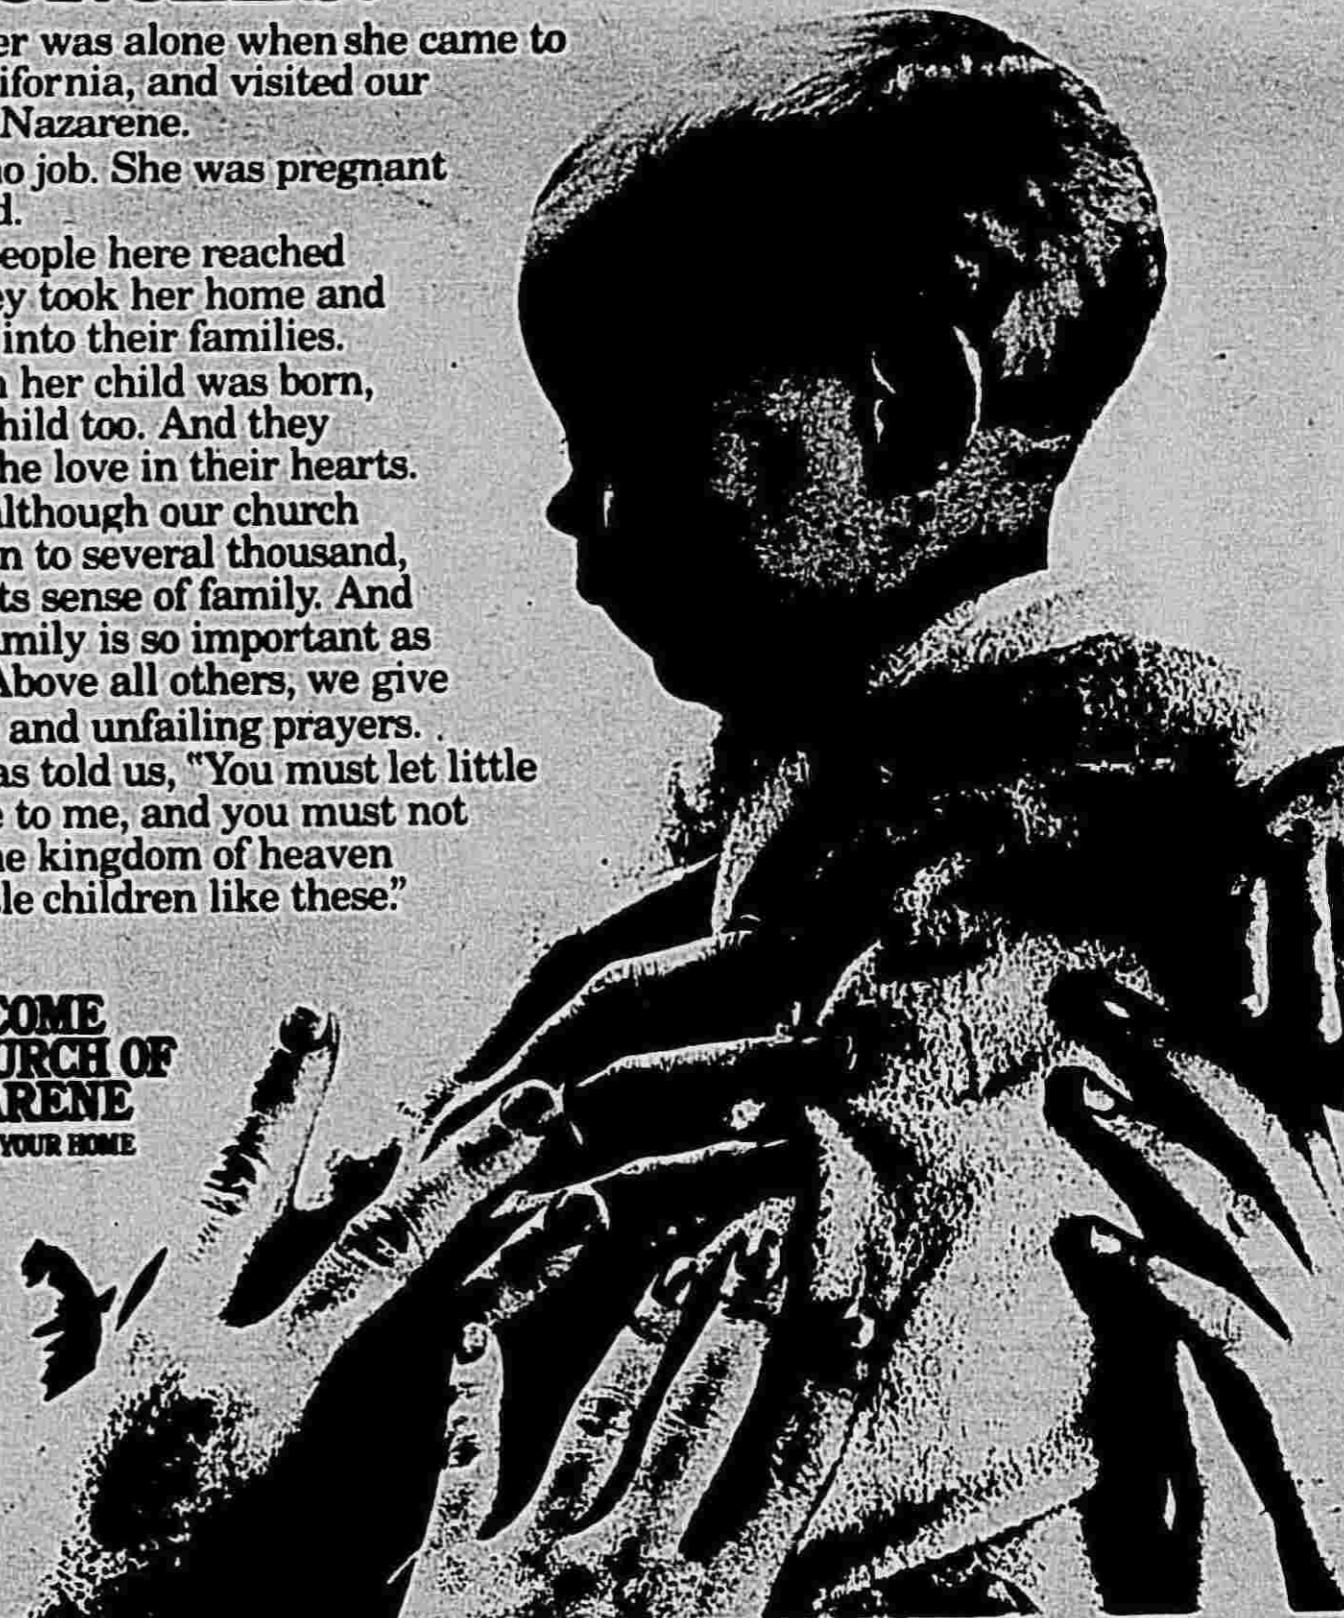

And the people here reached out to her. They took her home and welcomed her into their families.

And when her child was born, he was their child too. And they gave him all the love in their hearts.

Because although our church here has grown to several thousand, it hasn't lost its sense of family. And none in our family is so important as the children. Above all others, we give them our love and unfailing prayers.

That Beautiful Name

If nothing else (and that's just about the case), Adlai Stevenson knows how to "work" the metropolitan media and wring as much mileage as possible from the beauty of the name he was given at his aristocratic birth. Because after that beautiful name and the slavish attention Stevenson garners from the Chicago printed press and television, there isn't a whole lot in our opinion that can be said for the independent candidate for governor.

Stevenson's campaign has degenerated into a barrage of pot shots spewed out in all directions with the hope that one or two will stick long enough to become issues. Adlai has learned that as long as he can keep from falling off a horse, the Windy City media will pick up every utterance and turn it into a front page story or a 10 o'clock news tidbit. The significance, relevancy or accuracy of the remark doesn't matter. What matters is that Adlai has spoken and when Adlai speaks, there is a knee-jerk reaction to inform the world.

We're more than a little troubled that a famous name and good press relations can carry someone so far with so little. Without a doubt, the candidate wouldn't be getting more than a yawn if his name was Adlai Adams or Steven Stevenson.

The Tax-Cutting Mayor

Mayor Edwin Schroeder of Grayslake is that rare public official who not only talks about reducing taxes, but he's also trying to do something about easing the burden on taxpayers.

A keen student of taxation, Schroeder has studied tax rates not only in Grayslake, but neighboring communities as well. He's come up with the conclusion that there's a little fat in every governmental budget, the type of excess that can be trimmed without impairing services or operation. To further his tax reduction aims, Mayor Schroeder has called for a 10 percent reduction in the levies of all governmental bodies within the Village of Grayslake.

"Calling" is putting it mildly. "Jawboning" and arm-twisting would be more like it. Only Schroeder doesn't mind being criticized. The mayor is convinced his 10 percent plan will pay off with significant results. Besides challenging the taxing bodies to make a 10 percent levy cut for the coming year, Mayor Schroeder will convene the taxing groups in October to tally up the progress. "That ought to be fun," exclaimed the tax-cutting mayor, who has reduced Grayslake's municipal levy practically every year for the past 10 years. We agree.

Plant Closing Poses Thoughts On Past, Future

by BILL SCHROEDER

In a very real sense, the experience of Mid-West Transformer Co., which is closing its plant in Grayslake, is a mirror of the American industrial experience of the past three decades.

Sometime before the holidays, Mid-West will close the doors at its attractive manufacturing center on Rte. 83 with a loss of approximately 200 jobs. Its coil winding and transformer manufacturing operations are expected to be transferred to Mexico.

Company officials notified village councilmen that operations will be phased out in "three to four months." Michael Ellis, director of economic development, has been assigned to spearhead efforts to find a purchaser for the Mid-West plant that was marked by a waterfall sculpture and neatly manicured lawn.

What happened? In a nutshell, changing labor conditions and changing world markets have dictated that the company's future lies elsewhere. Officially, management and engineering is being consolidated in Chicago, where Mid-West originated, and products will be produced in plants out of the country, including Mexico.

Twenty-one years ago, the late Paul Ziegler, founder of Mid-West, electrified Grayslake and central Lake County with the announcement that he had purchased 50 acres to develop an industrial park and build a plant for himself. Ziegler found his Chicago plant cramped and outmoded. He yearned for modern facilities and a receptive labor market. Mid-West was in the forefront in 1965 in the "flight to the suburbs."

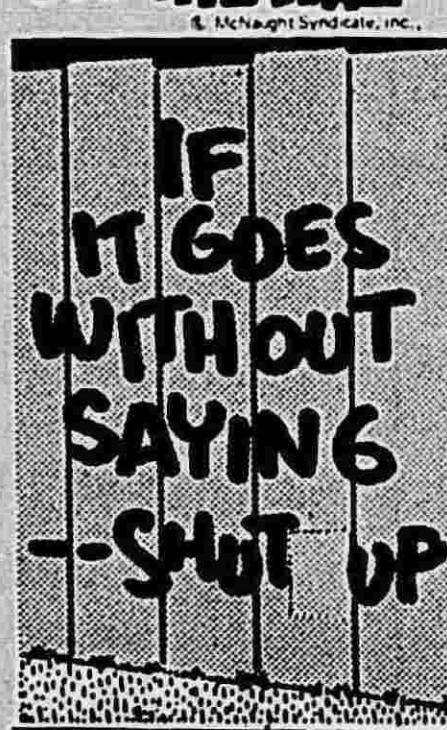

The then Mayor Warren Chard was enthusiastic about Mid-West's future in Grayslake. "It means more people working locally and more people moving in," he declared. He described Paul Ziegler as a "high caliber man" who will construct a plant that will be an "asset to the community."

That's exactly the way things turned out. An attractive plant was built. The industrial park was developed. Good jobs were provided. Mid-West was a good neighbor. Now it's all over. Times have changed and Mid-West is moving on-again.

Ellis is confident that a good buyer will be found. "It's an attractive building. Someone ought to be able to make good use of it." One wonders if another cycle, another era, is about to begin.

SEEING RED—Two Republican state representatives are fuming over the fact that County GOP Chairman Robert "Bob" Neal is adding insult to injury by promoting the campaign of token candidate John Bobel against 61st Dist. Rep. incumbent State Rep. John Matijevich of Waukegan, a Democrat and one of the most popular and durable public officials in modern Lake County political history.

OFF THE WALL

State Reps. Virginia Fiester Frederick of Lake Forest and William Peterson of Buffalo Grove apologized personally to Matijevich, their highly regarded colleague in the Lake County Springfield delegation, two years ago when Neal engineered the candidacy of Monte Beckwith of North Chicago against Matijevich because of their conviction that not only he is unbeatable but because he is deserving of a "free ride" due to his stature and long service to the county. At the time they let it be known that it would be inappropriate to field a token candidate in 1986. Neal ignored their feelings and inserted Bobel on the ticket. History is repeating itself and Frederick and Peterson are fuming.

The two entrenched GOP representatives feel that planned fanfare for the Sept. 14 opening of Bobel headquarters in Waukegan and the Sept. 19 fish boil fundraiser are a slap in the face to them as well as the redoubtable Matijevich. Ah, all is not well within the Republican family.

Meanwhile, Matijevich is taking prospects of mounting a full-fledged campaign in stride and getting a chuckle out of the GOP infighting.

Spaghetti Sauce Gets Better, Not Older

One of the first recipes I concocted before I even thought about writing a column, featured three stars: boned chicken breasts, mozzarella cheese and spaghetti sauce.

Leftover spaghetti sauce is preferred because the old saying applies here: it doesn't get older, it just gets better.

This time around pasta takes a back seat—make that a side dish—because the chicken is it. I recall when the sauce wasn't just right, the dish still received applause, thanks in part to the melted cheese.

When coating the chicken, don't be stingy: Flour the pieces generously before dipping them in egg and roll them in bread crumbs like you mean it.

Brown the chicken well, but don't burn it; add more olive oil if necessary.

If you don't have any leftover sauce, you can make a quick batch while you're preparing the chicken.

When broiling to melt the cheese, make sure the sauce doesn't completely dry out. If it does somewhat, put a little more on when serving.

Then hope you prepared enough.

Those with big appetites will put you on the spot.

Chicken Mozzarella

4 chicken breasts, boned, skinned and halved

4 tablespoons all-purpose flour

2 eggs, beaten

1 cup Italian style bread crumbs

5 tablespoons olive oil
1 pound mozzarella cheese, cut in 8 pieces
2 cups of your favorite spaghetti sauce, warmed

Dredge half of chicken in flour, immerse in egg, and roll around in bread crumbs; thoroughly brown in 2 1/2 tablespoons hot oil in large skillet and drain on paper toweling. Repeat process with rest of chicken. In shallow baking pan, arrange chicken in single layer, top each piece with cheese, pour on sauce and broil 6 inches from heat source 5 to 8 minutes, until cheese melts. Serves 4.

Pilot Light
GREG MELIKOV

Quickie Spaghetti Sauce
1 can (28 oz.) crushed Italian plum tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon each sugar and garlic salt
1/8 teaspoon each dried oregano and onion salt
1 small bay leaf
1/4 pound sliced mushrooms, sauteed in butter
Place all ingredients in large saucepan. Bring to boil; reduce heat to low. Cover and cook 30 minutes.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Warren O. and Eloise C. Brown celebrated 50 years of marriage on July 14. The joyous occasion was celebrated by 75 friends and relatives on July 13 at a party at the Lake Villa VFW Hall.

Warren H. Brwn and Mary Kay Vandernald, children of the couple, gave the reception.

Among the guests attending were Eloise's brother, Jack Chorpenning, and sister, Joan Conaway, both of the St. Petersburg, Fla. area; and Bob and Dorothy Smith, long-time friends who flew in from California for the occasion.

The Brown's have been residents of the West Miltmore community for the past 38 years. They are active members of the Lake Villa Methodist Church, and have been since moving to the area in 1948. Warren has been a member of the Lake Villa Lions for the past 24 years.

Warren is retired from the University of Illinois, Chicago, where he served as dean of men during his 30-year career. Eloise devoted over 20 years to teaching in the Lake Villa area, beginning at Allendale School and then moving into the public schools later in her career. They both continue to enjoy retirement life.

McGreal-Sexton/Bailey

Mrs. Janice Sexton, Island Lake, and Mr. John Sexton, McHenry, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Anne McGreal-Sexton, Wauconda, to Randall Gordon Bailey, Wauconda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Bailey, Wauconda.

The ceremony will be performed by Father A. Leveridge of Holy Apostles Church, Barrington, on May 16, 1987.

The bride-to-be is a 1982 graduate of Wauconda High School. She is employed as a secretary with Kelly Girl, Libertyville.

The groom-to-be is a 1979 graduate of Wauconda High School, and is employed by K. Concrete, Inc., Wauconda.

The couple plans to settle in Wauconda.

Zielinski-Sienko

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Zielinski, Ingleside, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Lee, to Scott E. Sienko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sienko, Joliet.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. L.J. Cure of St. Bede, Ingleside, on October 11.

The bride-to-be is a 1982 graduate of Grant Community High School and a 1986 graduate of Northern Illinois University with a bachelors degree in business. She is employed as an assistant manager for Trans America Financial Securities, Rolling Meadows.

The groom-to-be is a 1982 graduate of Joliet Catholic High School and a 1986 graduate of Northern Illinois University with a bachelors degree in finance. He is employed as a collection officer for Land of Lincoln Savings and Loan, Hoffman Estates.

The couple plans to settle in Rolling Meadows.

Family/Home

Choice Of Pet Takes A Lot Of Thought

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

I have had several calls from people asking me how to go about getting a dog or cat for the family pet.

There are many wonderful cats, kittens, dogs and puppies to be found in shelters. Some are even full breeds. A small fee covers the needed shots, spaying, and adoption fees.

These shelters are very interested in putting these pets into the right home with the right people. If the pet you choose doesn't work out, the shelter will take the animal back and you can try another one. It's very important to get the animals placed in the right homes.

There are many dogs and cats to choose from at the animal shelters. They also get in many puppies and kittens. If you still haven't found what you want, tell them so that they can make a note of what to look for. They'll call you if they do get in what you might be looking for. Thousands of pets pass through these shelters in a very short period of time. They are all in desperate need of homes and love. Still only about one out of 10 get that chance. Thousands of pets will never get a home and many more will find death awaiting them. There are always many more pets than homes.

When looking for a pet, you may want to check out these shelters first.

Orphans of The Storm, located at 2200 Riverwood Rd., Riverwood, west of Deerfield, is open Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The mixed breed dogs are $35 and the full breeds are $50. This is the last stop for the animals. If they are not adopted, death awaits. The shelter just can't keep them all. As it is there are about 250 dogs and 50 cats at the shelter at any given time. The telephone number for Orphans of The Storm is (312) 945-0235.

Save A Pet is another animal shelter where you will find many fine dogs and cats. The address is 2019 North Rad Rd., between Dundee and Hicks; phone (312) 934-7788. They are open Thursdays until 9 p.m., closed Tuesdays, and open all other days from 1 to 5 from. They are all handled with love and ready to be taken into a good home.

In Fox Lake there is a shelter called Bark N Town, and in Crystal Lake there is Helping Paws.

Helping Paws helped Tomisina and her kittens through spaying and vet

If it is an AKC pet you are seeking, be sure to get the correct papers at the time of purchase. Check the papers before you leave to see if all is filled out correctly. Again, check for the health of the pet. It would be best to take your new pet right to your vet to be checked out.

No matter where you get your pet, always have your vet check it out as soon as possible. Be ready to bring your pet home before going out to purchase it. Make sure this is what you and your family want. Make sure you are allowed to have this type of pet in the place you are living. Take into consideration the size of the pet when it becomes full grown. Finally and most importantly, don't let the cute thing be the deciding factor.

Pet-Wise

p.m. Many of the pets there have been in need of a home for several weeks. This shelter tries not to put them down, but it is very difficult since the space is limited. There are many lovely dogs and cats for you to choose care needs. The phone number is (815) 459-2641.

You can also turn to the adds in newspapers, and perhaps find what you are looking for there. Be sure and check out the health of the pet.

A kennel might be okay, but again it is wise to check

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Condell Distance Event Marks 10th Year

The Condell Distance Classic, sponsored by Condell Memorial Hospital, will be marking its 10th year when runners toe the mark at 9 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 24, at the hospital, 500 Garfield Ave., Libertyville.

In addition to the 10K TAC-sanctioned race, there will also be a one-mile fitness run at 8:45 a.m., and a one-mile media challenge set for 8:30 a.m.

A trip to Jamaica, compliments to the American National Bank of Libertyville, will be presented to the first registered male and female to cross the finish line. Cash prizes will be awarded the first four males and females (those runners over 40 years of age) to cross the finish line.

Classes for the 10K include: 13 years and under, 10 to 19 years, 20 to 29 years, 30 to 39 years, 40 to 49 years, 50 to 59 years, and 60 years and over. Awards will be provided for both men and women in each group.

In addition, a new class called "Heavyweight" is being added for those runners, who regardless of age, weigh 200 pounds and more. The mixed couples division is also being planned again. However, this year, there will be separate prizes for those couples who are married and those who are not.

Registration is limited. The first 1,000 registrants will receive an official Condell Distance Classic t-shirt. All participants will receive a special runner's breakfast after the runs.

To obtain a registration form call the Dept. of Public Relations, (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275. The entry fee will be $10 for the 10K before Sept. 22. After Sept. 22, the fee will be $11 through Sept. 27. There is no extra fee for couples divisions. The fee for the one-mile fitness run will be $5 at all times. If a runner is a member of Illinois TAC, there is a $1 deduction. There will be no registration the day of the race.

Packet pick-up and registration in person will begin Monday, Sept. 22 through Friday, Sept. 26, from 8:30 to 6:30 p.m., and on Saturday, Sept. 27, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Dept. of Public Relations and Marketing, near the 303 Cleveland Ave. entrance at the back of the hospital.

ACHS Spikers Get Ready For Tourney

The Antioch varsity volleyball team has a busy non-conference and tourney schedule before they get into North Suburban Conference play when they go up against the more experienced Mundelein Mustangs on Sept. 12.

Out of the 40 girls that tried out for the team, 11 made the varsity and 12 will be playing on the junior varsity team.

Coach Carla Thompson is depending on her two returning spikers, junior Tara Farnsworth, who was a varsity starter as a sophomore and is "still good as ever"; and Michelle Travelski, a good hitter.

New blood in the peron of senior Sherry Waldroup, a transfer student, will provided the set-up work for these returning lettermen as the Sequoits try to better their seventh place in conference play.

"So far the girls are showing good team work," said Coach Thompson.

The Sequoits were scheduled to play their first two games, on Sept. 2 against McHenry and on Sept. 3 against Woodstock.

Buksa Wins Title

Fred Buksa came away with all the marbles in the Lakeland-Coka Cola tennis tournament.

Buksa beat out a field of players who qualified for a championship tournament at Waukegan Recreation Dist.

Tournament winners from various sites qualified for the tournament as well as point earners from the tournaments.

Sixteen players were in the men's championship round.

Fred Acosta of Zion led in the early tournaments, but Buksa caught him with two tournament titles in the late going.

Park districts in Vernon Hills, Libertyville, Gurnee, Round Lake and Zion hosted tournaments.

Football To Kick-Off

All the two-a-day drills, practices and scrimmages will soon be over for Lakeland area football teams.

The 1986 football season gets officially underway Sept. 6 when Grant hosts Jacobs in an 8 p.m. varsity start.

All other teams open play Sept. 7.

Warren Twp. High School travels to Skokie to take on Niles North; Zion-Benton opens North Suburban Conference play at North

Chicago; Round Lake is at Elmwood Park; Wauconda hosts Cary-Grove and Johnsburg hosts Richmond-Burton.

Carmel opens its season at Waukegan East. Games Sept. 7 start at 2 p.m. with the exception of the Elmwood Park-Round Lake game, which starts at 1:45 p.m.

What Happens If You Can't Pay Your Mortgage

While much of the U.S. prospers, certain parts are stalked by mortgage delinquencies and foreclosures. Areas where employment centers on steel production, farming or energy are feeling the worst economic bite.

One out of every 17 homeowners nationwide is behind on his house payment by more than 30 days, according to the latest survey by the Mortgage Bankers Assn. of America.

The grim figure underlines a question many homeowners are asking these days: "What happens if I can't pay my mortgage?"

Whether loss of job, family illness, divorce, poor money management, or just plain irresponsibility has forced you to fall behind on your mortgage payments, there are some ways to obtain relief short of foreclosure.

The first thing cash-short homeowners should do when they know they can't pay their mortgage is to notify their lender before payment is due.

"Given advance warning of your financial problem, a bank or a savings association is much more likely to work with you," said Ron Schlabowske, lending expert with Boulevard Bank, N.A. in Chicago.

However, even if you miss only one mortgage payment you should expect to pay at least a five percent penalty, or $25 on a $500 mortgage payment.

If you are 60 days late, the bank or savings and loan will turn your account over to its collection department, and after 90 days it goes to the legal department and foreclosure proceedings start.

"Even if you go into foreclosure, most lenders will allow you to redeem your mortgage by making your payments current," said Schlabowske.

In foreclosure a lender only is concerned with recouping the amount of your outstanding debt, plus legal expenses. In a forced court sale the lender only will bid enough to recover his losses. If no one else bids more, you will get nothing.

If the sale of your house is forced at a price that is less than the outstanding mortgage, you will be responsible for making up the difference between the selling price and the loan amount.

If you are a homeowner in financial trouble, you should go to your lender early and ask him for relief through one of the following procedures:

ASK FOR MERCY AND FOR BEARANCE - If you are cash short for a good reason, such as family illness or a temporary job layoff, and have shown a good payment and a good banking record as well as stable employment, some bankers may give you a break. They may allow you to pay only part of your mortgage payment (and in some cases none of it) until your temporary problem is solved.

MORTGAGE REFINANCE - If interest rates are significantly lower than when you first took out your mortgage, a refinance with a lower interest rate, and a resulting lower monthly payment that extends the life of your mortgage, could ease the financial burden.

Another way to refinance is to recast the loan into a graduated-payment mortgage with lower monthly payments that increase after a few years. Beware of extra fees and prepayment penalties.

SECOND MORTGAGE - If there's enough equity in your home you may be able to get a second mortgage to help you catch up. This is only a stop-gap measure. If you can't pay the first mortgage, paying the second will be doubly difficult.

DEBT CONSOLIDATION LOAN - If you are under pressure from several creditors you may be able to consolidate the amounts owed into one three to five year loan. All this does is buy time; it's not a cure-all.

FILE CHAPTER 13 IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT - "If you qualify, this will allow you to cure the arrearage over a reasonable amount of time (12-24 months or longer), while you are making your current mortgage payments. Chapter 13 will also stop the foreclosure proceedings," explained Joseph Cohen, Chicago personal bankruptcy attorney. For further information contact your local bar association for a bankruptcy specialist.

SALE OF THE PROPERTY - If all else fails, your lender may recommend that you try to sell your house before he forecloses on the delinquent mortgage. A successful sale could enable you to extract some of the equity that you already had paid into your house.

"Before you meet with your lender to iron out the problem, be prepared to answer the following questions," recommended Schlabowske:

- Why did you fall behind in your payments?

- What is your current total monthly income?

- Do you own insurance policies and other assets against which you can borrow?

- What are your other monthly debts and financial obligations and what are you planning to do about them?

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

- How do you plan to bring your mortgage payments up to date and keep them current?

- Are you willing to forego using credit cards for a while and cut down on household costs?

- Can other members of your family contribute to your income?

Remember, in most cases the lender does not want to own your house, any more than you want to lose it. Working with a lender can save a banking relationship as well as the family home.

VA Medical Center Adds To Mgmt. Team

The North Chicago VA Medical Center has made some additions to its management team. Those additions include:

Dr. Kevin Kearns, the new chief of the Audio/Speech Pathology Service, transferred from the New Orleans VAMC where he was the speech pathology supervisor. He and his wife Geri will be living in Evanston. Kearns brings with him a three-year research grant regarding training aphasics for better communication.

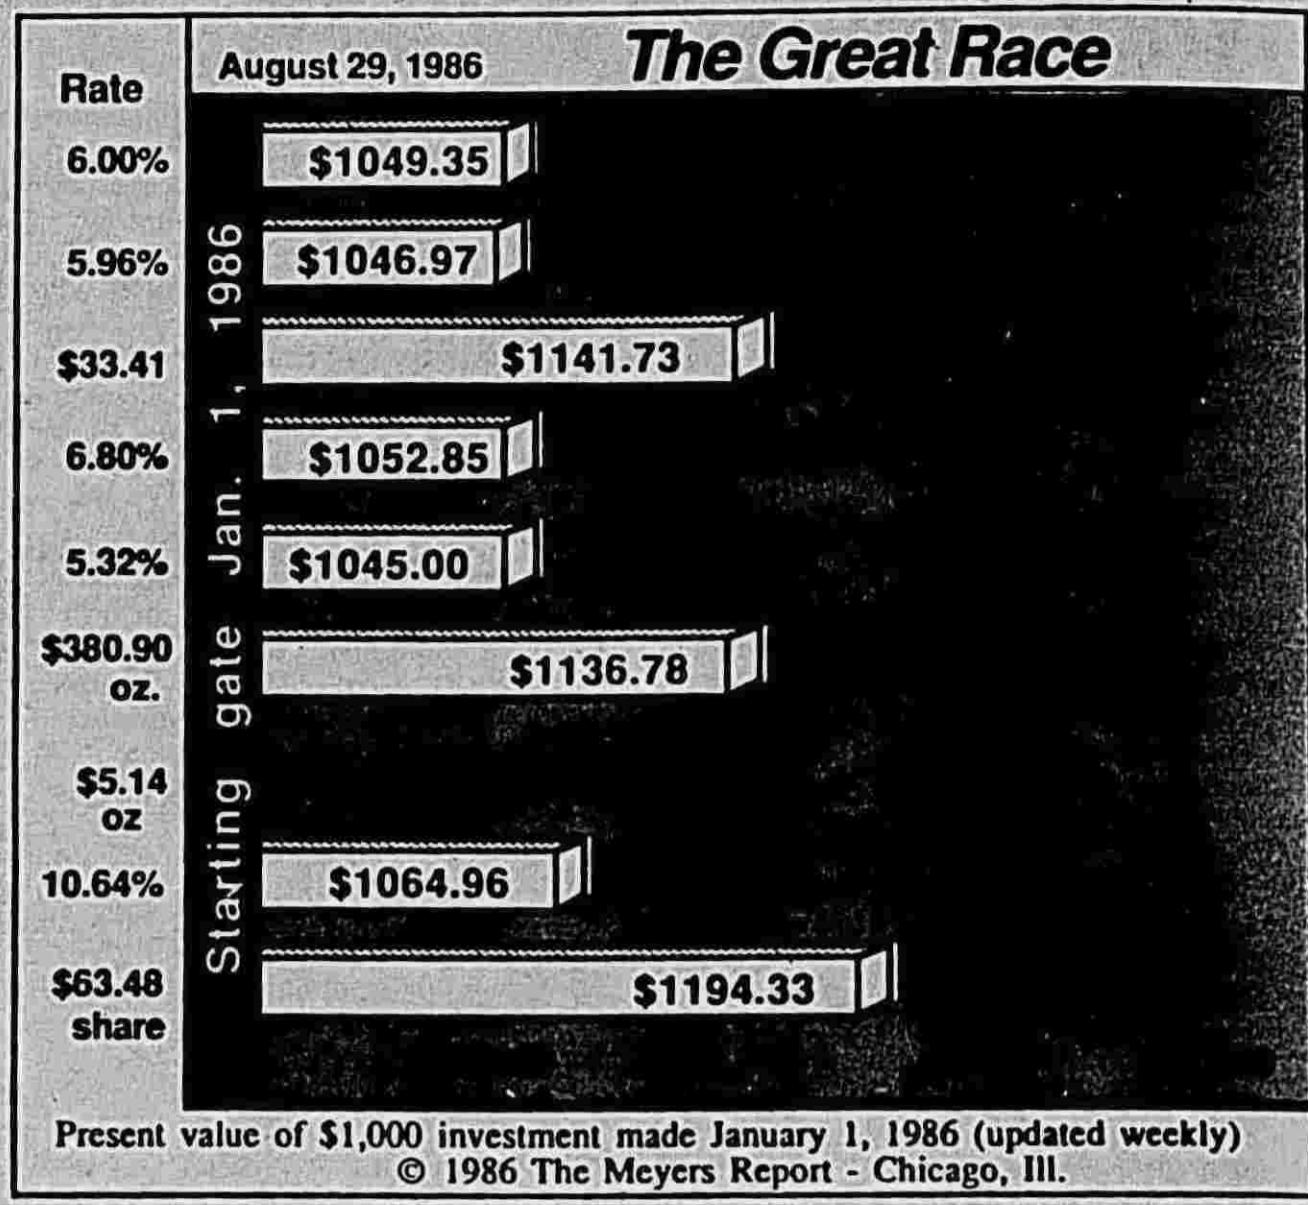

Gregory Lillibridge was born in Chicago, raised in Rockford, and received his bachelor of arts degree in chemistry and biology from Augustana College in Rock Island. He received his masters degree in hospital administration from the University of Iowa, Iowa City. Lillibridge is the newest assistant chief of Medical Administration Service at North Chicago VA, transferring from a similar position at the VA in Newington, Conn. He and his wife will be settling in Lincolnshire.

Doug Shouse, a native of Danville, has a bachelor of science in therapeutic recreation from Illinois State University. He had been a therapist in the recreation department at North Chicago VA before accepting his new position as assistant chief of Voluntary Services. Since many of the 800 volunteers at the North Chicago VA assist in patient recreation programs, Shouse's understanding of recreational programs should be a great help when he does volunteer training. He and his wife, an employee at Lake Forest Hospital, live in Lincolnshire with their two children.

Marianne DeBartolo, daughter of Paul and Mario Burke of Waukegan, is the new planning and program development analyst for the North Chicago VA. DeBartolo has her masters in social work from the University of Illinois, Urbana, and was formerly the director of planning and implementation at the Health Systems Agency for Kane, Lake and McHenry Counties. She resides in Gurnee with her husband, Joseph, and will be handling community relations for the North Chicago VA and coordinating long range planning activities.

Moonlighting: A Taxing Situation For Many

Hundreds of thousands of Americans work at more than one job to help meet their economic needs. When a person takes on more than one paying job, for whatever reason, it's commonly called "moonlighting."

Income earned while "moonlighting" is taxable and must be reported on the tax return, whether received in a regular payroll check, or in cash, the Internal Revenue Service says. If expenses are incurred in producing the income, such as special clothing or car expense, they may be claimed as deductions.

Some examples of "moonlighting" include: a schoolteacher tutoring students during evening or weekends; a construction worker doing repairs; a newspaper reporter writing free-lance articles for magazines; a secretary selling cosmetics door-to-door on weekends; or an accountant preparing tax returns during spare time.

If a second employer does not furnish a W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement" to the employee, or if the earnings have been in cash, the income must still be reported as "wages, salaries, tips, etc." on the tax return.

Taxpayers who need further information on "moonlighting" and other taxable income should order the free IRS Publication 525, Taxable or Nontaxable Income, by calling their local IRS office.

The boundaries of the proposed Redevelopment Project Area, by street location, are as follows:

A 167.4 acre tract of land located in the Northeast quadrant of the Village of Round Lake Beach, generally bounded on the North, East, South and West, respectively by the Northern Village limits, the Northwestern Village limits (along with North and Leslie Avenues), Shorewood and Williams and Route 83, and is traversed by the following rights-of-way, inclusive: the Northeast corner of the Northernmost Village boundary and Route 83 to Rollins Road, to Hainesville Road to Clarendon Road, then South along the Eastern property rear lot lines on Williams Avenue to Shorewood, then North along the Western property rear lot lines on Leslie, then West along Redwing, then North along the Western property rear lot lines on North Avenue to Rollins Road to the diagonal Western Village boundary line to the Northernmost Village boundary line and all property located within these boundaries.

The Village has prepared a Redevelopment Plan with respect to the Redevelopment Project Area which is on file and available for public inspection at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Round Lake Beach at 1212 North Cedar Lake Road. The Redevelopment Plan describes the Redevelopment Projects to be undertaken pursuant to the Redevelopment Plan and includes an estimated or redevelopment project costs and the sources of funds expected to be used to pay such costs. The following is a general description of the Redevelopment Plan and the Redevelopment Projects:

The initial phase of the Tax Increment Financing Redevelopment Plan (the "Plan") will involve the redevelopment of several parcels of property constituting approximately 167.4 acres located generally North of Rollins Road and West of Illinois Highway 83 through the construction of a retail shopping center, which redevelopment will involve, among other activities, the construction and installation of certain "public improvements," e.g., subsurface site preparation, building demolition, on and off-site water, sanitary sewer and storm sewer utilities, detention work, new street construction (Old Rollins Road), improvements on current streets and general rights-of-way improvements. The second phase of the Plan will involve the utility improvements, reconstruction of minor roads to the West of Hainesville Road and South of Rollins Road and construction of new minor streets. Such redevelopment may involve property acquisition and assembly, site clearance, and physical and public improvements. A copy of the Plan is available at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Round Lake Beach at 1212 North Cedar Lake Road for all interested persons.

The foregoing, and all other matters the municipality may deem appropriate, will be discussed at the September 22, 1986 public hearing.

All interested parties may file with the undersigned written objections with respect to any issues embodied in this notice and will be given an opportunity to be heard at the public hearing. The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and each taxing district having taxable property within the proposed Redevelopment Area and other interested parties are invited to submit comments concerning the subject matter of the hearing on or prior to 12:00 A.M., September 22, 1986.

Johnson Jewelers Stresses Quality And Service

For 15 years, Johnson Jewelers of Antioch has enjoyed continued success as one of the areas fine jewelers. Owners, Dennis Johnson and Laddie Korecek, feel their success comes from selling quality merchandise and guaranteed service.

"Our customers expect only the finest in today's jewelry and giftware. We hand select our merchandise from leading manufacturers and designers and have steadily increased our inventory to one of the largest in the county," they said.

Along with a fine selection of jewelry and giftware, Johnson Jewelers is proud of the personal service it provides for their customers.

"We have customers 100 miles away that won't go anywhere else. Why? Because of our full watch and jewelry repair department. We service everything from Timex to Rolex, along with clock repair," they said.

Johnson and Korecek have remodeled their store, which will soon sport a brand new custom sign. "We want people to feel good when they come in, and our 'new look' does just that," they added.

"Over the years we have seen many businesses come and go, including other jewelers. Many were not willing to make the commitment to their business and community. We both live in Antioch and feel a total commitment to the community, in which we own our business. Our customers recognize and appreciate our community spirit. We simply love our community and intend on being here a long time to come."

Air Show Features Fund Raising, Fun For All

An air show will be held Sept. 7 at Campbell Airport in Grayslake.

The event is being sponsored by the United States Down's Syndrome Fund (UDSF) fund, in cooperation with the Village of Round Lake Park and Cardinal Aircraft Service, to benefit the United Down's Syndrome Fund.

The air show's gates open at 11 a.m. with the show beginning at 1 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults, $2 for children and are available at A-Tire County Service on Cedar Lake Rd. in Round Lake and Grayslake Shellmart in Grayslake at the intersection of Rte. 83 and Rte. 1.

Tickets at the gate are $6 for adults and $3 for children. All of the ticket price will be donated to USDF and the donation is tax deductible.

The USDF was formed in the early 1980s as a clearing house of information for parents of individuals afflicted with Down's Syndrome. The Fund publishes the Down's Syndrome Digest, a compilation of the most recent and up to date research and information areas such as education, medicine, physical fitness and legal issues. The USDF may be contacted by writing to P.O. Box 661E, Wheeling, IL 60090.

The USDF is a not-for-profit organization.

Among the features of the air show will be a U.S. Coast Guard rescue demonstration.

'Ultimate Pitts', a custom modified SB2 aircraft, piloted by Tim Nealey, will be shown. Nealy has been flying aerobatics since 1979 and his show includes rolls, loops, stop rolls and tumbling end over end.

Para Lift from Milwaukee will provide a skydiving exhibition. Gean Littlefield and Chryl Radke will thrill the crowd with their air walking.

On a historical note, there will be two Tiger Moths, British WWII trainer planes on display. Crews will be attired in authentic period uniforms. A Waco UPF7 BiPlane from the 1930s will be on display.

The highlight of the day will be the flour-bombing contest. Scheduled to compete are WLS-TV weatherman Jerry Taft; Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman; Judge John Goshgarian, Lake County Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcock; Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson; State Representative Robert Churchill (R-62) and many others. The celebrities will be attempting to drop a sack of flour from an airplane into a washtub on the ground.

Food, soft drinks, and beer will be provided. Musical entertainment will be provided by Lake County's own Larry Leafblad and the Over The Hill Gang.

Campbell Airport is accessible from Allegheny Rd. one-half mile south of Rte. 120. For more information, call Jim or Gary at (312) 223-2200.

Evidence Of A Disaster

The front end of this 19-foot Master Craft fiberglass boat was literally torn off when it was struck by another boat at a speed of approximately 60 miles per hour. Five people died and one was injured in the horrible collision that happened in the early morning hours of Labor Day. Officials are calling it the worst disaster in the history of the Chain O' Lakes. —Photo by Lance Clark

Tragic Collision

(Continued from Page 13A) the wreckage floating in the water, has led to speculation that the accident was caused by alcohol. Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson is performing toxicology tests to determine if alcohol or drugs were a contributing factor.

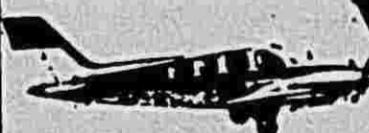

The issue of drunken boating has long been an issue on the Chain O'Lakes, which is reported to have one of the highest concentration of recreational boaters in the world.

The death of 15 boaters in 1982 led the Lake County Board to pass the drunken boaters law in June, 1984. While that law tightened restrictions on boating and drinking, it did not outright forbid the presence of alcohol on board. It does state that the driver of the boat cannot be legally intoxicated.

Since passage of this law, there had been only one boat-related fatality until this foggy morning tragedy on Labor Day. Now, some people are wondering if the law is tight enough.

Hillview Farms Hearing Will Take Longer Than Planned

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

The long-awaited Pollution Control Board hearing on Hillview Farm's appeal of an earlier denial of a sludge permit by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is running a little longer than expected.

Originally scheduled to run on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 28 and 29, the hearing will re-open on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 8 and 9. Officials are not sure that it won't go even longer than that.

Highlights from the first two days of testimony included comments by State Sen. Jack Schaffer. He said, in his testimony, that when he was first elected 15 years ago, one of the first problems to cross his desk was that of Hillview Farms. Pointing out that now, 15 years later, he is still having to deal with it, Schaffer asked pointedly, "How long do the people of Richmond have to suffer with this?"

He added that he has driven past Hillview Farms over 30 times in the last year and that in at least a third of those trips, the odor has been powerful.

The hearing hit a snag on Friday, Aug. 29, when Arnold May, owner of Hillview Farms was unexpectedly absent. He was supposed to give testimony at noon. Due to the Labor Day holiday, Lakeland Newspapers has been unable to reach May for comment.

After May has completed his testimony, the IEPA and the attorney general's office will present their case.

The hearing will continue to be held at Richmond-Burton High School. It is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. on both Sept. 8 and 9. A one-and-a-half-hour-lunch break will be taken at 11:30 a.m. Interested residents will get the opportunity to comment after all the scheduled witnesses have completed their testimony. As yet, no one is guessing when that will be.

Last Summer Didn't Last Long Enough

When I Think About It

by GLORIA DAVIS

It's not just me! I've talked to a ton of people in the past few weeks that have had the same thing happen to them.

When this many people are missing something this important, it amounts to what is almost tantamount to a crime wave.

What's missing is our favorite time of the year, SUMMER!

I guess we did see it for a little while sometime or other in these past few months so we did have it, but it somehow got mislaid. Especially in the last few weeks in August, usually one of the hottest summer months, it seemed to have disappeared.

The Summer of '86 has got to go on record as the fastest summer ever! Wha happen, I haven't even gotten to the bottom of last summer's ironing basket!

First it was an extremely warm day in May and then, bambo!, here it is down in the 60s and 50s.

At this writing, Labor Day is barely a memory and there is an autumn bite in the air and when it does warm-up its seems more like Indian Summer than "Dog Days."

Some people have even reported seeing some fall color on the foliage. C'mon now! This is ridiculous.

Did I miss something, is this all there is, just those very few days when the old mercury ventured just slightly over 90 degrees. Maybe I was having such a good old summertime that it just flew by. Nah!

Don't give me, "well, we'll probably have a hot September."

That just doesn't cut the old mustard, summer is supposed to be June, July and August.

I personally think this dastardly deed was perpetrated by a very profession ring of thieves, the least member being modern day air conditioning. Maybe we have to spend more time (like in the olden days) feeling sweaty and sticky to get the real feel of summer.

I also think that the merchandising tycoons from Madison Ave. (or wherever) are part of this burglary ensemble.

When the only remnants of light, bright and airy summer merchandise can be found hanging dilapidatedly on a few sale racks somewhere in the back-ends of stores the day after the Fourth of July, it's hard to keep that good old summer feeling, no matter what Mother Nature is up to.

And speaking of that grand old gal (better known as the seasonal Ma Barker), she didn't help much this year by shedding all those tears that not only dragged-out her usual sprays of April showers, but turned them into a veritable temper tantrum.

Either that or she sure left her bath water run over more than once!

With the way women are taking over everyplace, she's probably the ringleader.

When one gets to be past the thrilling 30s and skims through the fantastic 40s, everything seems to be changing (a real sign of old age.)

OK, switch all the holidays, just as long as Christmas stays on Dec. 25. Make it a digital world so that I'm completely helpless after the slightest storm and don't even know what time it is because the same number keeps flashing on my clocks.

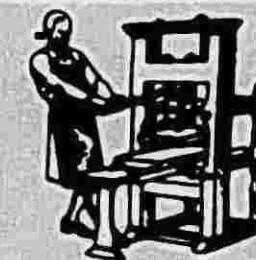

Change banking policies so that I haven't even two seconds between the time I write a check and it clears (or worse doesn't).

But for heaven sakes, leave the time when the livin' is easy alone!

Pretty soon we'll be talking about "What I did last summer," even before the groundhog looks for his shadow.

Visitation for Mr. Anderson will be held on Thursday, Sept. 4, from 1-9 p.m., at the K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home.

He had attended the Gavin school system and later graduated from Grant Community High School (Class of 1976). He was a member of the Black Magic Dive Shop in Round Lake Park and was a member of the Knoll Wood Courts in Ingleside. He was also a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and was active in coaching junior football leagues in McHenry.

For the past year, he was employed as a foreman with the Wright Tree Service of Lake County.

Survivors include his father, Gerald "Swede" Anderson; his mother, Charlene "Chick" Anderson (nee Miller); three brothers, Warren I. Anderson, Wendell G. Anderson and Gerald W. Anderson, all of Ingleside; his grandparents, Irving and Alice Anderson of Ingleside; many aunts, uncles, cousins and other relatives; and a dear friend, Debbie.

Burial will be at Grant Cemetery in Ingleside. In lieu of flowers, the family will appreciate memorials.

Nadine Alexander

Memorial services for Nadine G. Alexander, 58, of Druce Lake, were held on Saturday, Aug. 30, at the Community Protestant Church in Mundelein.

Mrs. Alexander died on Tuesday, Aug. 26, at St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan. She was born on Jan. 24, 1928 in Chicago, and had resided in Druce Lake for the past year.

Survivors include two daughters, Tricia (Doug L.) Alexander of Chicago and Brandy (Gary B.) Alexander of Chicago; two sons, Kenny Alexander of Skokie and Scott Alexander of Lake Villa; two sisters; and one grandson.

Interment was private.

Taking Care of Business

Marshall R. Schroeder, left, takes care of business at a GOP convention in Chicago as he confers with former President Richard Nixon in 1960.

Founder Of Lakeland, Schroeder, Dies At 82

Longtime Lake County civic leader Marshall R. Schroeder died Tuesday, Sept. 2, at St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, where he was being treated for a heart condition.

Mr. Schroeder, 82, a resident of Long Lake, was admitted to St. Therese a week prior to his death.

Funeral services for Schroeder will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 6, at Ringa Funeral Home in Lake Villa. Visitation will be on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 4 and 5, from 4-9 p.m. Burial will take place at Vernon Cemetery in Half Day/Lincolnshire.

In lieu of flowers, friends may contribute to the Calvary Presbyterian Church in Round Lake.

Schroeder was born on June 15, 1904 in Half Day, and had been a lifelong resident of Lake County.

His business life was involved with newspaper publishing and banking. Founder of Lakeland Newspapers in 1956, Schroeder retired as publisher in 1972. He was also a retired director of the Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn., and in August was elected director emeritus of the Grayslake National Bank after 25 years of service.

In addition, he is a past president of the Illinois Press Assn.

Schroeder was also very involved with politics, both, on the local level and on the national scene.

He was one of the initial organizers of the Lake County Republican Federation, for which he was a longtime treasurer, and was still a member of the board of governors at the time of his death.

On April 7, 1978, Schroeder was named the first-ever recipient of the Bob Milton award for his outstanding service and contributions to the federation.

He was a Republican candidate for state representative in 1964 during the orange ballot at-large election.

Schroeder had belonged to the Grant Twp. Republican Club, and had been a former precinct committeeman in Libertyville and Vernon Twp. He was also a longtime member of the Lake County Tuberculosis Assn. and of the session of Calvary Presbyterian Church.

Other memberships included the Rising Sun Masonic Lodge of Grayslake and the Long Lake Yacht Club. He was also a past director of the Long Lake Sanitation and Improvement Assn.

Survivors include his wife, Lydia; two sons, William (Nancy) of Long Lake and Robert (Betty) of Round Lake Park; one brother, John (Virginia) of Waukegan; eight grandchildren, William (Lisa) of Fox Lake, Jill (Ralph) of Long Lake, Robert, Karen, Cindy, Susan, Judy and Elizabeth; and two great-grandchildren, Janelle and Matthew.

"My religion is very important to me . . .

so I want to be sure my funeral reflects my religious beliefs. The Funeral Director worked closely with me and my clergyman to pre-plan a service in which all the rituals of my faith will be carefully followed."

We serve all faiths in times of need.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) That hot idea needs a short cooling off period. Some changes may need to be made before a final decision is called for.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Your natural cheerful and charming disposition helps dispose of a sticky problem among close friends. Be impartial, though.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A situation requiring very delicate handling of very sensitive feelings falls into your lap. Be patient as you work this out.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) A week that begins in some confusion ends with answer to those perplexing puzzles. Be patient. Also be especially sensitive to children.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) A favorable turn of events changes a previously gloomy outlook into a more positive possibility. Stick with your original plans.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Good news follows a long waiting period. A difficult situation begins to work itself out with the help of close friends.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Someone you hoped would come through for you withdraws completely. Instead of trying to regain that help, better to shift your sights elsewhere.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You may be spending too much time doing too many things. This could lead to problems. It's best to take some time off to consider your next move.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Before you get upset, check out the new setup. You may find unexpected changes will prove more advantageous in the long run.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Storm warnings ahead. Avoid the temptation to break out in a temperamental temper tantrum even if everyone does everything wrong.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Cheer up. Although a negative reply is disappointing, it's only a temporary setback. You soon learn how to make the necessary adjustments.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Check for problems beneath the surface. Adult Fish-folks are advised to rework plans to ensure nibbles from interested parties.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around.

Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values. The best source is newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with very other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.

5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor cost, price or merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" — about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of Lakeland Newspapers. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

Tragedy On The Lake

An early morning boating accident that took the lives of five people and left one injured, tore the front end off of this 19-foot fiberglass boat. Officials estimate that the speed of impact was 60 miles per hour. The accident is being called the worst in the history of the Chain O'Lakes. —Photo by Lance Clark

Footlights To Be Full Of Fancy Free Entertainment

St. Peter Parish, of Antioch announces that this year's entertainment feast, "Footlights And Fancy Free" will be presented the weekends of Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and Nov. 7 and 8. Entertainment will include many local talents, as well as area professionals.

Plan on joining Antioch friends for this special event. Tickets will go on sale in September at all Antioch financial institutions, Tiffany Real Estate office and St. Peter's Rectory. Admission is restricted to 21 years of age or over.

"Footlights '86" will be hosting the PM&L Players as one of 11 rooms of continuous entertainment at St. Peter Parish. This year's theme "Footlights And Fancy Free" will highlight PM&L's version of "California Suite".

In addition to PM&L's performance, "Footlights" is proud to announce the return of its "Sports Bar" and the Musical Travelin' Crew Review, featuring the teaching staff of St. Peter school.

A variety of local amateur and professional entertainment will complete the star-studded review.

Additional information is available by calling Jim Haley (312)395-5292 or Gail Marequenski (312)395-3725.

Craner To Teach Art Class

Adult oil painting classes at Antioch Community High School will resume Wednesday, Sept. 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. There are a few openings available for new participants. This popular class is taught by Jane Craner, a local artist and retired Antioch Community High School art teacher.

The 15-week course will cost $30 and students register by appearing at the first class Sept. 10 in the high school art room at 7 p.m.

For further information call Jane at her home, (312) 395-0837.

Graduates

Craig A. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney White of Antioch, has earned his bachelor of science degree from Winona State University in Winona, Minn.

Dist. 30 To Receive Illinois Funds

The 30th Dist. is due to receive more than $1.5 million for 1987 Build Illinois projects, according to Sen. David N. Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff).

All of the improvements included are for waste water treatment, water and sewer facilities, and storm water drainage.

Barkhausen said that although some of the appropriations originally approved by the General Assembly were trimmed by Gov. James Thompson before he signed the Build Illinois legislation, the district will be able to get some important projects started with the grants provided.

"We knew in June that the total for all the projects was higher than the amount budgeted for the program," he said. "Under the circumstances, with state revenues lower than projected, I am pleased that our projects have been funded at these levels."

Barkhausen emphasized that the grants are for new projects and do not include those initiated last year, some of which received reappropriations. All of the projects are closely related to economic development. "They may not sound glamorous, since they are for public works that we often take for granted, but without a strong infrastructure, we cannot have a flourishing economy," he said.

The projects are: Grayslake - sewer and water main improvements, $470,000; Buffalo Grove - improvements in the waste water treatment system, $300,000; Mundelein - sewer and water system improvements, $250,000; Lake County - for Des Plaines River Waste Water Treatment Plant near Lincolnshire, $470,000; Highland Park - for storm water retention and drainage, $100,000.
